Store Wage System Investigated By M.P.'s

Salaries and bonuses paid executives came down as well. In 1929 the total was $2,253,187; 1931, $1,981,858; and 1932, $1,034,060. Both salaries and bonuses fell.

Eaton employees received varied benefits from the company throughout the year. There are living allowances to certain employees, which in 1933 totaled $193,731, and short-term allowances to others, $121,740. Sick pay in 1933 totaled $51,254; wedding gifts, $5,433; payments to widows, $15,345; and recreation facilities, $101,526.

Ottawa, June 14.—From 1929 to 1933 the wages and salaries paid by the Winnipeg unit of the T. Eaton Co. Limited, declined from $3,780,385 to $2,275,960. G. G. Richardson told the Commons committee on mass buying here to-day, Mr. Richardson is one of the Toronto auditors instructed by the committee to examine the Eaton company's books. The number of employees was reduced from 6,469 to 4,646.

TORONTO FIGURES
Wages paid in the Toronto store of the T. Eaton Company Limited also were under review to-day by the committee, with Hon. H. H. Stevens as chairman.

Auditor Richardson presented a series of tables showing the extent of wage reductions in 1933. Eaton sales clerks, he said, have been paid on a standard plan providing a low basic wage plus monthly commissions in excess of a quota. The weekly wage rate has been $12.50 and $13 for women, $14 and $15 for single men and $18 and upwards for married men.

Of the male employees on April 1, 1933, 4.87 per cent of sales clerks were receiving $13 weekly and under; 30.14 per cent, $14 per week and under; and 73.47 per cent $21 a week and under.

Of female sales clerks on April 1, 1933, 58.87 per cent were receiving $13 per week and under; 21 per cent $16 per week and under; and 97.5 per cent $21 a week and under.

SALES QUOTAS
Sales quotas were determined for each section of the department from the past relationship of sales salaries and commissions to sale volumes.

A budget selling cost percentage was first determined from the current month and from this the employees' quotas were automatically fixed on the basis of the relationship.

ACTIVITIES LAUDED

Wide activities of the Odd Fellows, one of the largest fraternal organizations in the world, in the field of relief, social legislation and social service were lauded by P. J. Reynolds, past grand master of the L.O.F.F. jurisdiction of Saskatchewan, in an address before the convention late yesterday.

He praised highly the child welfare work undertaken by the lodge in British Columbia and spoke of various fields entered by the organizations in different parts of the country.

The convention turned down motions presented yesterday for the holding of biennial sessions of the Grand Lodge instead of annual meetings and for a group insurance system to pay benefits.

A capital reserve of $106,000 was reported by D. E. MacKenzie of New Westminster in a sketch of the Home Fund trustees' activities. The sum of $6,110 had been paid out by that department last year for the relief of aged members and children, he said.

ately $2,000,000—are still to be heard from. The notes were not immediately made public.

FRANCE'S STAND

These notifications followed on a communication yesterday from the French government backing up its previously announced statement it would pay nothing on the debt installment due to-morrow. In its note, which placed France alongside Great Britain, Belgium and Czechoslovakia as a defaulter, the French government adopted a more conciliatory tone than previously, in the opinion of Washington officials.

The French note said the government recognized the validity of the $3,660,772,238 war debt to the United States but because of unchanged conditions would be unable to pay at this time.

France is in default to the amount of $228,312, through failure to make any payments since the Hoover moratorium. In addition, it has an installment of $59,000,218 falling due on Friday.

PAYMENT IN GOODS
Washington, June 14.—A suggestion from Czechoslovakia that her war debts to the United States be paid in goods and services was before the United States government to-day.

Ferdinand Verwilt, Czechoslovakian minister, presented a note explaining his country could not make full payment of the $4,491,111 due to-morrow without endangering its "financial and economic structure."

The note suggested the two nations discuss a readjustment to permit Czechoslovakia to repay in goods and services.

GERMANY ENDS LOAN PAYMENT

ials where parts of the state loans were issued.

NO CASH TRANSFERS
In its moratorium announcement, the Reichsbank said no cash transfers would be made for the six-month period.

By the one stroke, Germany will have benefited more than 800,000 bondholders ($120,000,000) in foreign exchange for the second half of 1934. The German Institute of Business Research estimates a saving of $45,000,000 marks in the servicing of private loans and 65,000,000 marks in the servicing of state loans.

There was no direct mention of either the Young or Dawes loans in the ten-page communique telling of the moratorium, since such loans are a government affair, but it was related that "there will be no exchange available for servicing such loans."

POSITION OF MARK
The Reichsbank communique carried a strict denial of rumors in the foreign press regarding inflation and devaluation of the mark.

"We will keep the German mark stable and have the power to do so," the communique stated firmly, adding that "there is no pressure brought to bear in the direction of a devaluation."

EXCHANGE ARRANGEMENT
The details of the German offer at the recent transfer conference of foreign bondholders were incorporated in an offer to the Reichsbank bondholders. Coupons, according to the communique to-day, will be exchanged for bonds in the amount of 3 per cent interest and 8 per cent for a sinking fund arrangement.

REPRISALS PROBABLE
The question of reprisals by creditor countries for the interference with reparations obligations has now become the most important consideration.

How far the creditor countries will go in the establishment of clearing arrangements and special taxation on German imports remains to be seen. Germany is confident her position in world trade will provide her with an effective shield.

London, June 14.—The German six-month moratorium on the Young and Dawes loans, announced to-day, has raised a grave situation and the seriousness of the step taken by Germany will be stressed in the House of Commons to-morrow.

Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will make a statement on the British position. It was learned shortly after the moratorium—running from July to December—was announced from Berlin. The Chancellor, it was indicated, would stress the gravity of the decision.

Basel, Switzerland, June 14.—The Bank for International Settlements to-day protested against the German moratorium on Dawes and Young loan payments as violations of the treaties of the Hague and Lausanne.

Educationists Enthusiastic

Fair and Equitable Solution of Finance Difficulties Required

Vancouver, June 14.—The provincial survey of education, as announced Tuesday by Hon. George M. Weir, Minister of Education, is heartily endorsed by educational authorities in Vancouver.

Time and time again the subject has been brought up at conventions of the B.C. Teachers' Federation whose membership numbers some 2,200 of the 3,800 teachers in the province.

H. N. MacCorkindale, superintendent of Vancouver schools, who commented to-day on the proposed survey, expressed himself as very enthusiastic about it.

"It is long overdue," Mr. MacCorkindale declared.

"From the comment in the press and from the dispatches which appeared in yesterday's papers, it would look as if they were going about it in a very sound way," he added.

While the Vancouver schools will be loaned to the provincial government as technical advisers in connection with the survey, Mr. MacCorkindale pointed out that it would be only a temporary loan. Major King is principal of Kitilano High School.

Arrangements will be made within the school, pro tem, to carry on there," said Mr. MacCorkindale.

Harry Charlesworth, general secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, who has been chairman of the survey commission, and who is an authority on school matters, expressed his personal opinion when he said:

"The financing of education has long been a question of considerable difficulty, and it is not surprising that it has occupied the attention of many public bodies, especially during the last few years."

"The provincial governments, municipal councils, school boards, teacher and parent-teacher organizations, ratepayers' associations and individual taxpayers have all given thought to this problem and have suggested various solutions."

"It has become increasingly evident, however, that such sectional considerations of the issue cannot possibly supply an adequate remedy, and it is therefore a matter of intense satisfaction that the Minister of Education and the provincial government have inaugurated an inquiry into the whole field of educational financing along the lines just announced by Dr. Weir."

"By this method the opinions of all groups can be obtained, and the combined wisdom of the various bodies pooled in an endeavor to find a complete and practical solution which will establish a fair and equitable basis."

"It has been my privilege during the last eighteen years to have a somewhat intimate knowledge of educational conditions in all parts of British Columbia, as well as in other parts of the Dominion, and I have long been aware of the many taxonomic anomalies and difficulties which exist. I have also been kept in direct contact with financial surveys made by educational authorities in other lands where problems are very similar to our own. Consequently I appreciate the opportunity of assisting in the minister's inquiry, and I shall be happy if in any small way I may be able to contribute towards solution which will be fundamentally sound and mutually satisfactory to the many representatives whose cooperation the minister is seeking."

M.P.'s To Consider Electoral Changes

New Franchise Act Will Be Introduced in Commons Soon; Resolution Passed By House Yesterday

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 14.—Important changes in the electoral law of Canada will come before the House of Commons when the new Franchise Act is introduced. It will provide for a permanent voters' list which will be revised once a year, create the post of franchise commissioner for the whole of Canada and afford a check on impersonation and "telegraphing" by requiring urban voters to accompany their registration with a signed statement so that, in case of doubt, the signatures may be compared.

The resolution authorizing the bill was passed yesterday and the bill will be brought down as soon as it has been finally approved by the cabinet. To-day the House turned again to the Shipping Bill.

WEATHER MAN IS UNPOPULAR AGAIN

Washington, June 14.—The Weather Man, who lives here, is the most unpopular man in town. He predicted rain for the recent Memorial Day and thousands decided there was no point in planning an outing. Memorial Day was the liveliest, uncloudiest day of the year.

Mr. King was that the steps leading up to the preliminary discussions were taken in the House, and if the third group had wished to participate it could have expressed itself at that time.

The resolution was passed after considerable debate, but no great opposition to the principle of the bill was advanced. The bill will be subject to further consideration by the cabinet and will be introduced in a day or two.

INJUNCTION ON ELECTION

Farmer-Labor Party Threatens Action Against Polling in Melfort, Sask.

Canadian Press
Regina, June 14.—If John A. McDonald, returning officer for Melfort constituency, adheres to his announced decision to reject the nomination of J. L. Phelps, Farmer-Labor candidate, in the Saskatchewan general election, the Farmer-Labor Party will seek an injunction to restrain an election being held in that constituency next Tuesday, according to M. J. Coldwell, party leader.

Mr. Coldwell said he had received legal advice that under section 57 of the Elections Act the fact the returning officer took Mr. Phelps' papers and $100 deposit-fee from Mr. Phelps' agent at 12:30 p.m. June 12, nomination day, and gave the agent his receipt, made the nomination valid and that the returning officer's decision at 1:50 p.m. to reject the nomination was null and void.

Mr. Coldwell said his information was that it was not until 1:50 p.m. or ten minutes before nominations closed, that the returning officer discovered Mr. Phelps' signature had been put in the wrong place on the papers and announced rejection of his candidacy.

Tuesday's dispatches from Melfort indicated it was Mr. McDonald's intention to "hold the deposit" and submit the question for decision to the chief provincial returning officer, but inquiries elicited the information there is no such officer for provincial elections as is the case in Dominion elections.

"The duties of the returning officer are defined for him in the Elections Act," said Alex. Blackwood, Deputy Attorney-General, "these duties are on him solely and he has already acted."

WAR VETERANS PLEAD PEACE

Canadian and American Legions in Unique Cenotaph Event at Portland

Portland, Ore., June 14.—While war veterans of two nations heard an inspired plea that they wage a bloodless battle so such memorials will be needed for future generations, members of the Canadian Legion and of the American Legion joined here yesterday in a solemn tribute to their war dead.

Before a cenotaph, a service was read and floral pieces laid for those men and women who died for their nations in the Great War.

The service, solemn and prayerful was in striking contrast to the other events in this year's Festival of Roses, which Portland was celebrating jointly with the convention of the British Columbia command of the Canadian Legion.

Flags representing Canada, Great Britain and the United States flanking a single pole symbolized the peace spirit among the English-speaking nations.

Ten thousand persons, many of them Canadians, heard the tributes to those of Canada and the United States who died in the war was dedicated the permanent cenotaph from which the flagpole sprang.

The part United States and Canada can play in building for world peace was outlined by Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, after the flags representative of the three nations were raised in union.

"This is a gesture of international friendship," said Brig.-General Alex. Ross, Dominion Commander of the Canadian Legion. "It is perhaps unique because this is the first time."

WASHINGTON, June 14 (Associated Press)—A troop of Royal Canadian Mounted Police drew great applause when they marched on foot in the Canadian Legion parade. Klitted bagpipes, bands, drum corps and legionnaires paraded with uniforms and colors of two nations.

GERMANY IN DEFAULT

DEFAULT IN THE PAYMENT OF INTERNATIONAL war debts by European countries seems to be highly infectious, and Germany appears to have caught the infection with a vengeance. She has declared a moratorium in the discharge of her reparations loans under the Dawes and Young plans, following the decision by the Reichbank to defer payment on commercial loans for six months. Whatever may be the ultimate fate of the commercial loans to Germany from abroad, there is little question that she has no intention of meeting her reparations bill any further if she can avoid doing so. That account has been whittled down over the years from a capital sum of $9,000,000,000, under the Young plan, to a modest $750,000,000 after 1933, to be covered by bonds deposited with the Bank of International Settlements, and now she proposes to make no payments at all for an "indefinite period."

Creditor countries will not be disposed to take these announcements from Berlin without resentment, since they always have refused to compromise further on the subject of reparations. That Germany has precipitated a grave crisis is apparent from dispatches from the various capitals, and it may be predicted that drastic action will be taken by way of reprisal. In some quarters severe taxation customs against German imports is suggested, but Germany already is suffering heavily in that direction in consequence of the very effective boycott of her products which has followed Nazi tactics against her Jewish population. Her adverse balance of trade in April was $2,000,000,000 marks.

The suspension of payments on commercial loans follows a long and acrimonious wrangle in Berlin several weeks ago, the terms on which Germany agreed to meet her obligations in this respect being unsatisfactory to the majority of her creditors. In those negotiations she made three alternative offers: (1) payment of forty per cent "or more if possible" in cash transfers of the amounts due (from July 1, 1934 to June 30, 1935) to foreigners in service (in contrast to the sixty-seven per cent which has been paid under the agreement to end); (2) or, payment in ten-year, three per cent government guaranteed bonds for the full amount due; (3) or, payment in marks to be held in Germany for more favorable transfer terms as recovery advances.

Germany's financial manoeuvres, which she will try to excuse by pointing to other international debt defaults, are probably part of her attempt under Hitler to stage a complete come-back to the halcyon pre-war period. Wriggling out of payment on reparations particularly seems to be merely another aspect of a programme which includes her withdrawal from the disarmament conference and the League of Nations, and, as an ultimate sequel, her recovery of the territory lost by her in the Great War. To her Treaty of Versailles and its implications constitute a letter as dead as Julius Caesar. To France they are not, and in that condition which, with characteristic Prussian stupidity, the present German leaders persist in making worse, lies a menace to the peace of Europe.

"RESPECTED ALWAYS BY ALL MEN"

IN A TRIBUTE TO DR. A. R. DAFOE, THE Ontario country physician who brought the Dionne quintuplets into the world, an eastern commentator quotes the following dedicatory passage from the ancient oath of Hippocrates, the father of medicine:

"... With purity and holiness will I pass my life and practice my art... into whatever houses I enter I will go for the advantage of the sick and I will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption... While I continue to keep this oath inviolate, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and the practice of my art, respected always by all men..."

It is not likely that Dr. A. R. Dafeo thought of those words from the ancient Hippocratic oath of his profession when he turned his little car through the dim dawn, from his neat warm brick home at Calder to the shabby house at Corbeil where a prodigy awaited him.

It is not likely that he has thought of them often at all since the day, many years ago at Toronto, when he took the oath to minister unselfishly to the sick and the suffering.

"Respected always by all men..." They say, up there in the backwoods Ontario neighborhood where Dr. Dafeo has practiced medicine for twenty-eight years, that he has earned fifty times over every penny he has been able to collect.

His patients are poor, most of them, never calling the doctor until the last minute, or at all if they think they have a chance to ride through without him.

Yet Dr. Dafeo's pockets are stuffed with letters from medical men of the cities wanting to know details of the one-in-a-million case of the Dionne quintuplets. Observe how this stocky, bluff, and hearty man almost forced his attendance on father Dionne when he saw it was needed.

Note the 4 a.m. trip of Dr. Dafeo to the Dionne home, the calm way in which he relieved the trembling midwife when a third baby had been born and two more were yet to come.

Arresting also was the untroubled way in which this country doctor regarded the whole thing as just another case in his long succession of 1,500 child-births, how with a kindly dictatorship over the household and its visitors he kept life in the five infants by old-fashioned methods and homespun facilities.

It is good indeed to look upon Dr. Dafeo, a medico of the old school, who saw his duty and did it, and who would only snort at the suggestion that there was anything extraordinary about that.

And there are many Dr. Dafeos in the world, worthy successors to a long line of worthy physicians, "respected always by all men."

ELECTION ROAD-FIXING

ONTARIO MOTORISTS, AND AUTO-mobile visitors to that province, never have seen such road-fixing as has been going on for the last few days and never expect to see the like again. We are told by The Toronto Star that for the "last lavish fortnight of the campaign" 50,000 men have been put to work on the roads all across the province; but it wonders whether the Henry government imagines that these men will vote next Tuesday the way their foremen tell them to.

"Men who want work and need it will accept it and welcome the pay they earn," says The Star, "but any intimation that their vote and influence pass into the control of the supervisors of roads would be deeply resented." It continues:

It is not easy from here to see what is going on in the northern part of the province, but there waits down from the newer Ontario to the older sounds of money-spending, debt-building and, above all, money-promising on the grand scale. Mr. Pinlayson is up there telling the people that the administration of which he is a member has spent $50,000,000 in the north and if they get back into office will spend $50,000,000 more. Mr. Pinlayson does not mind promising to spend $50,000,000 more. He does not mind making such promises to people in the north of the south or the east or the west of the province. The Henry administration is in a nervous state and is willing to promise the ballot boxes anything they want to listen to, it talk will influence them to be kind. But Ontario feels she has had enough and too much of Henry-Price-Pinlayson.

Even at this distance it looks as if the Henry government has "got the wind up" and feels it necessary to go to extraordinary and costly lengths in its attempts to attract votes. The employment of these means may help it to save itself from defeat; but it must be obvious to Premier Henry and his colleagues that the political trend in many parts of the country is definitely anti-Conservative. Landslides in Nova Scotia and British Columbia last year, and federal by-election victories for the Liberal party, suggest that Ontario can not by any means be considered safe for even a government which enjoyed such an overwhelming majority in the last provincial Parliament.

THE NEW DEAL'S TEST

THE FORTHCOMING CONGRESSIONAL election in the United States is already being advertised as a sort of referendum on the New Deal. So we may take it that the intensity of the usual partisan struggle will be accentuated by the activities of those who distrust and dislike the new order of things with a bitterness that transcends customary party loyalties.

In some quarters, however, the stand appears to be that business ought not to be inveigled into party conflict for many reasons, and, says one commentator, there are even stronger reasons why business should speak with solidarity. "Like it or not," he says, "nothing is going to be gained by irreconcilable opposition to everything this Administration has done. But a great deal may be accomplished by united representations against those acts, policies, and tendencies which business men generally agree are the most damaging to individual initiative, private investment, and business profits." On this aspect of public affairs in the neighboring republic Business Week speaks as follows:

"Let us be specific. The group of irreconcilables who are still bitterly insisting that all the steps of monetary policy so far taken shall be retraced, back to the old dollar and the old gold standard, are simply wasting their energies in futile denunciations. They might better join forces with the realists who, whatever their opinion of what has been done, accept it as accomplished fact, and work now to block the wild inflationists."

"Similarly, the irreconcilables who would destroy NRA, root and branch, are wasting their breath. There are serious defects in NRA and in the codes. But NRA has solid values as well—values which some of the most important industries in the country are not going to surrender. How much better, then, to join forces with those practical business men who accept NRA as something here to stay, and work toward its reform."

"Just now, one might wish for a Business Party, standing somewhere between the extremists who would reform everything, and the standpatners who would like to return to the 'good' old days. Better yet, a business organization, non-partisan, which should express with vigor the business man's solid opinions."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

PUBLIC WORKS
The New York Herald-Tribune

Whatever merit public expenditures may have as a stop-gap in a depression, they cannot be depended upon to supply the motive power for a sustained business recovery. Permanent recovery can be brought about only by inducing a flow of private expenditures in the capital goods industries, which currently account for about nine-tenths of the country's unemployment.

EXAMPLE TO THE WORLD
Labor (Washington)

When two nations make up their minds in good faith to keep peace with each other, they can do it. There were plenty of gruggles between Canada and the United States when peace came in 1814, but they were not allowed to shape national policy. The two countries determined to have peace, and they have had it. On 4,000 miles of international boundary, there is not a fort or a soldier, and not a warship on the Great Lakes. What an example for a war-plagued world!

BEAUTIFY THE ROADSIDE
The St. John Telegraph-Journal

In Maine a roadside beautification programme is in progress. Its purpose is to clean up the approaches to towns and cities, plant flowers and shrubs and make the whole scene more attractive. One important effect will be a greater love of the beautiful for its own sake. Garden clubs will be formed, service clubs will aid, and boy and girl Scouts will assist. The movement is one that deserves universal support. It is not expensive, and will make the roadways of the state a joy to the visitor. The result will be more impressive because this is an organized effort.

A THOUGHT

Have we not all one father? Have not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother by profaning the covenant of our fathers?—Malachi II 10.

It is time to fear when tyrants seem to kiss.—Shakespeare.

Loose Ends

A whole column about nothing at all—which is a considerable feat—including the old pole—the new robin—the pain in the tummy—and Mr. McTavish's roses.

By H. B. W.

NOTHING

THIS SEEMS to be the kind of afternoon which does not call for a column in the newspapers. I had a lot of deep ideas on the currency question, higher politics and the New Deal all ready to run down your throats to-day, but somehow they don't seem very deep when the sun is shining on the roses yonder, and the giant foxgloves are nodding in the breeze with a superior wisdom and a young robin, newly-fledged, with pale spots still on his red vest, is balancing precariously on the oak branch just outside my window.

This is the kind of afternoon, in the full tide of summer, when nothing seems worth while for a column in the newspapers, when nothing seems to be just the appropriate subject to write about. Anybody can write deeply on the currency question, higher politics and the New Deal, but how many people can fill a whole column with nothing? As a feat of endurance, on my part and yours, it is worth trying. You will endure most.

ADVENTURE

LET US look about here and find out just what nothing consists of. What adventure is to be encountered without straying from this chair beside the window. Not much, apparently. There is an old man cutting the hay in the little patch beyond the orchard, cutting it with that swing of the whole body which marks your true harvester, and from the sharp blade comes the "whoof, whoof, whoof" which is the immortal sound of reaping through the ages. There is adventure of a mild sort in reaping the hay as our ancestors have reaped it since remote times, but you wouldn't appreciate that, or how good it is to lie on a pile of the sweet new hay and look out across the fields to the marching blue line of the Olympics and think thoughts that lie too deep for tears.

This reaper is a Pole, though the little boy next door, having known only two kinds of poles, telephone and fishing, will not believe it. He was brought up in Poland under the heel of the cars and fought with their armies, because he had to, against the Japanese in the siege of Fort Arthur.

"But me," says the old Pole, "when she looks good to beat it, I beat it, yes, sir, Mister. I walk back home to Poland. But she's too hot for me there, so I come here."

The old Pole could tell a story of adventure in the trenches of Port Arthur, in the wastes of Siberia, on the peasant farms of Poland that would make your hair stand on end. But he just goes on swinging his scythe, as he learned the art from his fathers long ago. His story, a true epic, will never be written. He will be remembered not as a gallant adventurer in the old Russian Empire, nor dead, but as a funny old fellow with an absurd straw hat and a horse who could cultivate an onion bed and never stop on a single onion.

BEGINNING

THERE is adventure on that oak limb yonder—adventure of the most exciting sort. The young robin is trying to use his wings for the first time. He tries them speculatively, flopping them up and down in a clumsy fashion, which makes his mother, on the next tree, scream with alarm or mortification; it is hard to tell which. His father, on a higher branch, watches with an indulgent look, like one who has brought up countless children before this.

The youngster flaps again and now he is off, flittering nimbly across the garden and into the oak woods, his parents following fast. The mother screeches with delight, even the father is moved to creak a little.

Yes, the baby robin is off. He is flying into life now and all the wonders of the world are just before him, fresh and new—what worms in the springtime when the ground is wet, what cherries and strawberries in June when my scarecrows don't fool anybody, what journeys to the southland, what nests to build, what little robins of his own! Good luck to him.

PAINS PRESENTLY noisy squeals and hard breathing announce the approach of the twin terrors from next door. "You must be the baby in this game," says the female voice. "No, I'm sick of being baby and saying goo all the time," says the voice of the male.

"No, you're too young to be the mother. I'll be the mother and then I'll change you and put you to bed."

"I don't want to go to bed. I want some more chellies."

"Besides, the mothers have to paint their faces and smoke cigarettes and you don't know how to." "I want more chellies."

"I know how to paint my face, because when I was in the 'cital last week mine was all painted red just like a grown-up lady. But the red stuff on my lips tasted all thick and gooey. I don't know how they stand it all the time."

"I got pain in my tummy." "You better not tell anyone or they'll know you been eating the cherries."

"I want more chellies."

Sighting me for the first time, the little girl observes, with complete innocence: "We got a pain in our tummy. That's funny, isn't it?" "What have you been eating?" I say.

"Oh, nothing. Just a few cherries. And some raspberries—they're nearly ripe now—and a few logans. And we tried some of your apples but they're green and sour so we stopped after we'd tried three or four. So I don't know why we should have a pain in our tummy."

As they trudge off through the woods, she is saying: "Don't you want to be the baby and say goo?" "No, I don't want to say goo, I want more chellies."

ROSES There is old Mr. McTavish, just home from his office, and out in his rose garden already. Here is adventure for you, but of the milder sort, not so exciting as green apples.

Just a happy cherry, but more enduring and not so painful. You see that square rose garden with the hedge all around it, the neat paths and the sundial in the centre? Two years ago that was a lumpy place at the edge of a field of oats, and on top of it lay the accumulated tin cans and rubbish of the Paddy family, collected over a considerable fraction of a century.

Alone and unaided, old Mr. McTavish removed the rubbish, leveled off the ground, dug out the grass and weeds, planted the roses and the hedge. Every night when he would come home from his office he would change into his overalls and go at it. In the summer he would toil there until it was too dark to see.

It was a great day when the sundial was set in place. What hours of calculation! What observations of the heavens! What consultations with a compass! What care in having the dial set at exactly the right time! And after all, it turned out two minutes fast in the summer, but Mr. McTavish has found that it is exactly right on the seventh day of November each year. However, as there is seldom any sun then to make it work that doesn't help, I think for the old gentleman has been reconciled to the two minutes' inaccuracy now, but he never carries a watch to the garden; always consults the sundial several times in the afternoon—a kind of loyalty he owes it, I suppose.

Anyway, this is the season of Mr. McTavish's high adventure, the sea-

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

ZENITH We have studied our bursters now Which one hour since pressed hotly on our hair. Here only singing leaf and bending bough Can see our kisses, heed our love's sweet tale. Care's laden feet can never climb so high. Nor can the voice of sorrow pierce this wood. To-day earth spins for us, you and I. Its rulers in this windy solitude. And from the tree-clad crest of this steep hill Which after arduous climbing we have gained. The world falls back; here strong-winded The pulse of our love is now attained; Hereafter the dream will never shine so bright. In love we reach once only to this height.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

JUNE 14, 1909

(From The Times Files)

The bowling green at Beacon Hill Park was formally opened on Saturday afternoon very successfully. It was in splendid condition and certainly showed the pains and money the club has spent on it. There was a large assembly of bowlers and the public at the opening, a great number of ladies being present. Mrs. William Oliphant, wife of the president of the bowling club, opened the green by throwing the "jack" and Mayor Hall then rolled the first bowl. President Oliphant declared the green open to play in a short speech.

W. G. Stone, of the H.M.S. Albatross, and E. S. Woodward, of the Victoria West Athletic Club, are matched to walk a six-mile race to Richmond commencing at 7.45 o'clock. The race will take place at the Esquimalt drydock. The men will walk around the pathway at the head of the drydock until they have completed the six miles distance.

The race course at the Willows was a brilliant scene when 5,000 people assembled for the second Saturday of the meeting and filled the stand. The boxes and the grandstand were in front of the stand. The crowd contained 30 per cent of ladies and it is evident the fair sex of Victoria have learned to appreciate the efforts of the Victoria Country Club to cater to their special convenience and comfort.

For the first seven days of racing the Victoria Country Club has distributed among horsemen at the Willows track the tidy sum of $9,000.

Yesterday morning the steamer Makura of the Canadian-Australian Line arrived here from Seattle with the 300 excursionists who went over on Thursday. There were a number of Victorians who made the trip.

Next Saturday the steamer Princess Victoria is running on a special rate from Seattle to this city, the passengers returning the same day on the Princess Charlotte. The fare for the occasion will be kept for 6 o'clock. This rate is being in response to a request being made by the Victoria Country Club, who wish to cater to have as many people as possible in the city to attend the races.

Other People's Views

TITLES

To the Editor:—I note the remarks of your clever columnist, H. B. W., in yesterday's issue on the subject of titles in Canada. In this respect, little fault can be found with the two latest gentlemen on whom these dubious honors have been bestowed. Of men like Dr. Banting and Professor Saunders any country may well be proud; but like H. B. W., though for a different reason, I regret that they should have accepted these invidious distinctions. In doing so they descend from their kindly simplicity and enroll themselves in the company of such men as Sir Herbert Holt, Sir Joseph Flavelle and Sir John Aird—high priests of the golden calf who are not fit to blacken the boots of these real servants of humanity. Titles to such men as Banting and Saunders are like a gingerbread crown on the head of a king.

A title adds neither joy nor title to real greatness in any man, and it is a blessing that such men as Shakespeare and Watt, Oldstone and Darwin were never belittled by one. On the other hand, when a Byron or a Tennyson happens to be handicapped by a rich an unfortunate (Turn to Page 19, Col. 2)

SAYS BLACKMAIL WAS NOT PROVED

Defence Counsel in Appeal
Argues It May Be Libel
But Not Conspiracy

Madirection of the Assize Court jury by Chief Justice Morrison at the trial of Louis Williams, Arthur W. Clayton and James Davidson, convicted of attempting to extort $25,000 by blackmail from Col. Victor Spencer, was argued before four justices of the Court of Appeal in the continuation to-day of the appeal brought by Gordon S. Wismer, counsel for Williams and Davidson, and T. F. Hurley, counsel for Clayton.

Clayton was sentenced by the chief justice to four years and the other two men to two and one-half years each.

Mr. Hurley explained that Clayton and one Walsh were operating a literary bureau in Vancouver, handling authors, plots and stories. He referred to the prosecution evidence that one of them in the literary bureau office had said "they had a scheme to put a big shot on the spot and to take him for 'fifty grand'."

Mr. Hurley pointed out this was absolutely denied by Clayton, and in spite of this denial the chief justice had dismissed Clayton's evidence. Mr. Hurley said Clayton had sent to Col. Spencer by special messenger before publication in Daylight, a copy of the defamatory article and had asked him whether he had anything to say in reply or whether he wished parts deleted before it was published. As a result of this message, Col. Spencer's man, Stacey, visited Clayton, but Clayton made no claim for blackmail. Four days later, however, Clayton was arrested.

"It is very significant that Clayton, before he was arrested, did not attempt to get money from Col. Spencer through his man Stacey," Mr. Hurley went on.

"Except by silence," added Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald.

"There was no publication from the time the article left Clayton's hand to the time it reached Col. Spencer's," Mr. Justice Martin commented.

"Clayton may have to answer for defamatory libel, but he was not proved to be in a conspiracy," said Mr. Hurley.

From Chief Justice Morrison's address to the jury, the following was read to the Appeal Court: "They abused the privilege of the press, which is one of the greatest mediums for good or evil in the world to-day and it is one agency that may be used for disseminating the truth of the Bible on the one hand and as a medium of levying blackmail on the other."

References to Bible selling by Williams in Ontario in the address of Chief Justice Morrison drew the comment from Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald that "it cast aspersions" and from Mr. Justice Martin, that it was "prejudicial and an allegation of rank hypocrisy."

Mr. Wismer argued that the prisoners were indicted and that evidence was taken away from the jury by Chief Justice Morrison, who also passed over the strong recommendation of the jury for leniency towards the prisoners.

Prosecutor C. L. McAlpine directed the court's attention to the conditions under which Clayton would have deleted certain sections of the article sent to Col. Spencer. These were that Col. Spencer furnish proof of the untruthfulness contained in them.

Mr. McAlpine contended that Irving Thomas Lundy, main witness in the case, was not an accomplice, as charged by Mr. Wismer. Lundy had merely led the others on in order to apprise Col. Spencer of the plot.

Lundy had no idea of obtaining financial reward for this service. Williams, he admitted, wanted to abandon the scheme, but Lundy, who at this time was acting on instructions of General J. A. Clark, Col. Spencer's lawyer, told Williams the money was available for financing his paper. Meanwhile General Clark had communicated with the police on the case. Lundy's status was still under consideration when the court recessed.

TOO LATE SHE SENT IT IN

We phoned this party fully five weeks ago and reminded her that she should send her for cost to us for storage. She said that she could not afford to send it this time. A few days ago she brought it to us, badly moth-eaten. We had to charge $25.00 to repair the moth-eaten parts. If she had sent it to us when we asked for it, it would not have been damaged. Watch out! It does not happen to your car.

MAKE BED A HAVEN, NOT A PRISON

In any neighborhood around nap or bedtime there is invariably an assorted chorus of wails and cries exploring the necessity of going to bed. As the evenings get lighter, the demonstrations grow longer.

WANTS COMPANIONSHIP

It is difficult for any child to tear himself away from companions and shut himself in a lonely, often a very hot, bedroom. All children, especially as they get older, are disinclined to solitude. Their demands for another drink of water are not due to over-powering thirst, but to a reluctance to see their mothers disappear beyond the closed door. The child uses going to the toilet and being thirsty as weapons to prolong that companionship.

But is the child's attitude toward bed a wholesome one? Does he go to bed with gratitude, glad to relax and dreamless sleep? Or does he think of it as a prison, a pen that shuts him off from family and comrades and keeps him there a prisoner? Whatever his attitude it has been built up from earliest infancy by the mother. It is she who inspires him with the idea that to be able to go to bed, to be able to relax and sleep is the most precious boon. Or she plants in him the idea that going to bed is a last resort, submitted to only after everything else pleasurable is ended.

SHOULDN'T BE PUNISHMENT

Listen to a mother who yells at her yawning son. "Now you'd better be quiet and stop your crying or you'll have to go to bed. Just one more sound out of you and in you'll come."

Bed as punishment! Not as a relief to tired bodies, a means of refreshing a child so that he is ready and able to play gayly on the morrow, is it any wonder such a boy has to be threatened again with punishment to get him to come in at all?

Using the bed as a safe place to trow the child when he is wanted out of the way is likewise a double-edged practice. The child may be safe, but he is also sorry and his unhappy emotion fastens upon the bed as the villain. He hates being imprisoned, and he hates his bed and acts like a little demon when it is time to nap or to sleep for the night. For such attitudes we must blame the mother. ## VICTORIAN ORDER NURSE IS REAL FRIEND TO NEEDY

The V.O.N. nurse prepares and assists at operations and confinements, does surgical dressings, teaches by demonstration how to carry out the physician's orders, gives instructions to expectant mothers, and pays follow-up visits to the mother after confinement and the baby. The V.O.N. was primarily inaugurated to assist the poor and needy and such ever receive our consideration and advice. But everyone, regardless of race, creed or means, is entitled to its services.

NURSE A REAL FRIEND

This summing up of the functions of the Victorian Order of Nurses is culled from the official history of the order. But this bare paragraph tells nothing of the many ramifications of this great public nursing service and of the truly magnificent, but non-spectacular work, carried on by these blue-clad, highly trained, followers of Florence Nightingale, who carry the lamp of health into the homes of the people.

To many homes in Victoria, the V.O.N. nurse has proved a real friend, bringing not only relief of suffering, but comfort to the mother and other members of the family.

304 CASES LAST MONTH

Last month the local nurses had charge of 304 patients, of whom 208 were medical cases; 7 communicable diseases, 1 surgical, 43 prenatal, 49 infants, 14 postnatal, 13 special instruction. To them in all 1,021 visits were paid, including 53 follow-up to tubercular cases, according to the report presented by the head nurse, Miss E. Thornley.

Donations to assist the work were gratefully received from Miss Ravenhill, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Scott Moncrieff, Victoria Circle King's Daughters, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. C. Hartley, Mrs. Cameron, Miss Duke, Miss

TIRED MOTHERS NEED HOLIDAY

Sunshine Camp Will Open at Saseenos If Funds Forth-coming

Sunshine Camp, Saseenos, B.C., will open for its tenth season on Wednesday, June 20, when a party of mothers with pre-school children will be taken for two weeks in the country, by the sea.

Those fortunate citizens who take long outings through woods and green fields more or less as a matter of course have but a faint idea of the eager anticipation with which tired mothers, coping with endless worries, look forward to this fortnight away from crowded, unsanitary living conditions, and the noise of city streets. For many of them, it gives fresh courage, and the strength to tackle their problems with some hope of reaching a satisfactory solution. Long continued financial stress has created health conditions which must be remedied in nearly every case the two weeks of fresh air, three good meals a day, which the harassed mother does not have to either provide or clear away, and many hours of sound sleep, results in diseases of malnutrition being either checked or entirely overcome.

If every one motoring off to enjoy their chosen recreation in leisurely comfort would forego even once or twice the expensive meals usually forming an appreciable part of such outings, and give this money to the Sunshine Camp, a member agency of Friendly Help Welfare Association, the $2,000 needed to send five parties for two weeks each to the country, not one family need be disappointed.

One mother has had her application in since shortly after Christmas. "If there is sufficient demand, later on in the season a camp for 'teen-age girls may be arranged, for those girls who are not already linked up with either the Girl Guide Association or the G.G.T.F."

COLUMBIA W.A. VISIT GANGES

Over Ninety Members Take Part in June Meeting on Island

Over ninety members of the Diocesan Board of Columbia W.A. enjoyed a delightful visit to Ganges Island, B.C., last Sunday, June 10, where they held the June meeting of the board at the church, and Rev. C. F. Popham gave a missionary address. The parochial branch had arranged for cars to meet the visitors, and Mrs. Moorehouse and her fellow-members were hostesses at luncheon.

At the business session at 1:30, Lady Lake, who was in the chair, expressed the pleasure felt by all in being invited to hold the meeting on the island and in meeting so many of the members who would, she hoped, find much that was helpful and interesting in the business session.

GARDEN PARTY PLANS

The arrangements for the garden party which is to be held at Bishop's Close on August 23 were fully gone into, and each branch has been asked to assist with various stalls and other features. Each branch is asked to appoint a convener and to send in her name to Mrs. O. M. Prentice, 2625 Dewdney Street, phone G 2329. Tickets of admission, which the branches are asked to sell, are being distributed by the recording secretary, Mrs. Colin Cummins, 745 Yates Street, telephone E 8008, to whom the name of the ticket convener must be sent as soon as possible. Branches are asked to do their best to ensure the success of the affair, and to co-operate with the diocesan executive in every way possible.

CHURCH GIRLS' CAMP

A site has been found for the Church Girls' Camp to be held at the end of July, the girls' secretary, Miss Mott, reported, near Whiffen Spit at Sooke, and a very interesting programme has been prepared, which will shortly be published. Registration is to be made through Miss Mott at the Y.W.C.A. annex, for girls from fourteen to twenty-one years of age. The educational secretary, Deaconess Robinson, has the new study books for seniors and juniors for sale, and urged their use in the branches. The W.A. library is kept up-to-date and is open every Monday afternoon, or books can be ordered by mail.

The deaconess asked for prayers for the success of her summer mission when she will travel as far as Cape

WANTED GRANDSON BUT IT WAS A GIRL

Washington, June 14.—Senator Copeland of New York was so upset at hearing that his son's wife had produced a baby girl that he would not speak to anyone for a whole morning. He had yearned for a grandson who could be called Royal S. Copeland III.

Scott, and visit Laquet Island and hold summer schools. Camp Artisan summer school opens July 16 to 23, for boys, Salt Spring Island, B.C. Next Sunday is Children's Day, members were reminded. The Social Service secretary, Mrs. Pope, reported that Sunshine Camp is to open on June 20 for ten weeks, and asked for contributions for this very useful piece of social service work.

BALES SENT OUT

The Dorcas secretary, Miss Sill, reported having shipped a package of 100 lbs. weight of useful articles, sent in response to the appeal from Miss O'Brien on Village Island, near Alert Bay, and read a letter of grateful thanks from Miss O'Brien for the valuable help given in her work. Miss Sill reminded the members that there will be need of further relief for prairie settlers this fall, and also asked that they begin early to collect useful articles for the Christmas bales.

Mrs. Miller, prayer partner read a helpful paper on the system of raising for prayer-partners, and the secretaries of the Little Helpers, juniors and girls' work gave outlines of the progressive system which carries young people from infancy, through childhood up to the senior standard.

Mrs. T. W. A. Gray gave a most vivid account of the great advance made in Palestine during the last ten years, and described the three great races, with their languages and religions, who form the present-day population.

Mrs. W. H. Belsom brought in a report of the spring executive meeting of the Y.W.C.A. Board, which she had attended, as Vice-president for western Canada.

READING MATTER NEEDED

The magazine secretary, Mrs. Philip, appealed for supplies of reading matter for the Columbia Coast Mission work, to be sent to Room No. 22, Memorial Hall. The library on the Mission Ship Columbia had been materially assisted by the supplies she had collected and taken on board when the ship was in port last week.

The Living Message secretary, Miss Robinson, urged that every member be a reader of the magazine and endeavor to interest others in W.A. work by its means. "Extra Cents" secretary Mrs. A. Bengough, urged the members to remember the fund during their summer holidays, a special envelope for the purpose can be obtained from her.

Miss Oldfield invited the board to hold the September board meeting at St. Michael's and All Angels' Royal Oak, which the meeting gratefully accepted.

Mrs. Lytton moved a very hearty vote of thanks to the Salt Spring Island branch for their gracious hospitality, which was cordially endorsed by the meeting.

The funds of the Oak Bay Sea Scouts will be augmented by the proceeds of what promises to be a delightful afternoon.

Various games and competitions and a "lucky dip" are being arranged for the diversion of guests, and there will be a stall of useful articles, also for home cooking, candy, flowers and soft drinks. Afternoon tea will be served, and Mrs. Youson will read the tea cups. The committee convening the affair includes Mrs. G. F. W. Jennings, Mrs. J. D. Patterson and Mrs. E. Watson.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

Mrs. Planter sniffed and Donna, determined to let nothing ruffle her temper, pretended not to hear.

She missed the long afternoons spent with Bill. Now that he was back on the farm he seemed to be busy every moment of the day. When evening arrived Grandfather Sidal came to Donna's room to say the prayers, after which Bill read aloud from the Bible. Always when the old man rose to go to his room Bill left with him.

Each evening Donna hoped Bill would return for a chat with her, but he never did. He was always considerate, always kindly, but his manner toward her never in any way hinted at more than cousinly affection.

Donna would lie awake, staring at the star-dotted sky, listening to the myriad of voices that made musical the night air, and wondering if she could be content without Bill's love. Now that she was ill she could be satisfied to see him occasionally or just to hear his voice, but later, when health had returned, would she hunger for his arms, his smile for all that his love could ever grow too strong for her? Could she endure the crumbs he gave her without hope of more?

Her sorest trial was Mrs. Planter. When the housekeeper saw that Donna did not grow restless and did not seem to long for the arena and the "big top" she became positively venomous. Under every ill remark the woman made Donna could sense the fangs.

"For a girl that ran away from home because she couldn't stand farm life, I must say you're taking this mighty well! But then mope living with animals and worn-out animals has made you appreciate even a farm house."

"Yes," Donna answered gently. "It's a good thing you're Bill Sidal's cousin or Mattie Blake's niece would be out of joint."

"Mattie Blake?"

"Yes, Bill's been right sweet on her since he came out here to live with Amos. Folks kinder thought they'd make a match of it. Bill could do a lot worse, even if Mattie is a country girl. No funny notions about her! She'd be satisfied to stay home and raise a family."

"Yes," Donna's heart was beating with wild, irregular thumps. She hoped the wicked old woman could not hear them.

"Men like to fuss around with flipperty-jibbets," the housekeeper continued, during the dresser, "but when it comes to settling down they want something else in a wife. As I says to Mattie, she the other day in church, 'You tell Mattie not to worry about me, I'll be just havin' my fling and once the newness wears off, he'll come trotting back!'"

Donna's lips were white with anger. "You aren't by any chance referring to me as a flipperty-jibbet?" she demanded.

"If the shoe fits, wear it! Any woman with half an eye could see why you're not bankerpin' after getting back to your show. And Bill is jest silly enough to forget Mattie for a spell and be took in by your prettiness, but there can't be anything come of it. If you don't know it, Bill does. It's agin' religion and law for cousins to marry. Yes, ma'am—agin' religion and law!"

She whisked out of the room with the righteous air of one who had done a painful duty, no matter what the cost.

Donna's fist clenched and unclenched. Tears of humiliation streamed down her cheeks. She had a crazy impulse to call after the old woman, "But Bill and I are not cousins! I've every right in the world to love him!" It was not discretion that stayed her tongue but the name of Mattie Blake! What more natural than that Bill Sidal should have a sweetheart? Certainly

CHAPTER XI

Ned Trafford was surly and belligerent. Irritable without provocation. Twice Renfro had caught him under the influence of liquor and he ever caught him drinking again. But Trafford avoided Madeline and, as the days passed, by fear of him lessened and gradually he became responsible for Donna's fall and she told Con David this. The result was that Con hated Trafford with a deadly, silent hatred that made him careless and bitter and even cruel to the smiling beasts that helped him earn his living.

Renfro had watched Madeline performing on the trapeze alone and, since business was bad and there was a prospect of Donna's return, he had decided to let Madeline remain in the show as a "single." One Gabriel sister did not make a feature act, but the cut in salary helped a little.

Madeline knew Con's interest in her was due to the fact that he could get news of Donna through her, but his very indifference only spurred Madeline's determination to win him. In every conceivable manner she contrived to keep him near her. She made rabbits and sandwiches and invited Con into her stateroom to share them with her, though she knew Renfro would "read the riot act" if he heard of it.

During every performance she watched the animal trainer put his "cats" through their paces and she never failed to compliment him on his daring when he left the arena, his white silk shirt clinging to his body and beads of perspiration about his white lips.

"There isn't an act in the world that can equal it, Con!" she would exclaim ecstatically. "I simply marvel at you! I could watch you all day, even though my teeth chatter with fright for you."

She hovered over him like a mother, watching for a loose button or a dangling bit of braid on his coat. As though it were her duty to perform such tasks, she demanded that he hand the garments over to her to mend.

When the new tiger, a gorgeously beautiful Bengal, gave Con a vicious scratch on the wrist Madeline changed the dressing on the wound daily for a week, although Con insisted the injury was nothing.

He was flattered by these attentions. The sting of Donna's reputation still rankled, though he loved her with all the fervor of his Latin temperament. Con was perfectly aware of Madeline's love for him, as was everyone else in the circus. He accepted it as homage due his position as the star performer of the troupe.

Now and then he invited her to dinner at a hotel or restaurant as a change from the fare in the mess tent. Madeline always ate heartily, and for a smile to her lips. The hair as Donna had worn hers, dressing as nearly as possible like Donna and aping her mannerisms until the man was a trifle bewildered. He wondered why, when the two girls were so alike, he should love one and not the other.

A month went by, then six weeks. The heat became intense. Under the tents the air was heavy, almost intolerable. The poor animals, forced to stay in small quarters, suffered and bled and roared and spit. The staterooms in the Pullman cars were stifling. Electric fans merely stirred the fetid, stifling air.

Under the glare of a thousand blazing lights the performers tried to concentrate on their numbers, to forget their discomfort and put forth their best efforts, but the acts moved slowly and without pep. A grizzly bear sickened and died. Renfro tore his hair and wailed that there was a jinx on the show and they might as well close.

His wife, who had heard the same way many times, for once listened to him. Then she said, "Well, why don't you stop beefing and get rid of the jinx?"

"I wish to God I could! If I can tell me who it is I'll fire him quick enough."

"It's not a 'him.' It's that Maheine-Gabriel."

"Oh, you've got it in for Madeline because she's alone. She's all right." "Maybe she is, but she's a trouble maker. Look at the way she's trailing Con! Look how she strung along Ned Trafford!"

"What?"

"I'm not a gossip, but I'm not as blind as you are and I've seen a few things. I'd be glad to see Madeline go. It's not because she's a 'single' but because she's no good."

"If I thought that, I'd fire her quick as shooting. She was darned decent about going on with the act alone—and she's sure she and Trafford—"

"Why do you suppose he's gone to pieces the way he has? He was crazy about Madeline but he knew enough to keep his distance if she hadn't led him on. If you don't believe me, ask anyone in the show. And watch her with Con!"

"I've seen them together but—I'll look into it!"

Fortunately for Madeline, this conversation took place after an afternoon performance while she and Con were sitting at a table in a Chinese restaurant some distance from the lot. Madeline had received a letter that day written by Donna herself, the first letter she had written since the accident. Madeline produced it proudly and waved it before Con's eyes.

CGLT PLAN GIRLS' CAMPS

Two Being Arranged to Accommodate Various Ages

Maple Lawn Camp—What wonderful memories does that name arouse for those who have spent happy days at the Canadian Girls in Training camp at Sooke! White tents in a grassy field shaded by spreading maple trees; the blue waters of Sooke Harbor, and almost always blue sky and sunshine—such surroundings could not but spell a real camp holiday. Add to these charms groups of light-hearted, eager "teen-age girls" ready for what camp has to offer—hiking, swimming, games, handicraft, pageantry, nature lore, Bible study, and a campfire at the close of day with its songs and stories and marvellous friendliness. From the rising whistle at 7 o'clock to "lights out" at 10 o'clock, the days will be filled with joy and laughter.

The Victoria Leaders' Council is arranging to hold two camps this year in order to accommodate the ever-increasing number of girls anxious to take advantage of such a fine holiday. The camp for girls from twelve to fourteen inclusive will be held from July 4 to 12. Miss Minnie Beveridge, director of girls' work in First Baptist Church, Victoria, will direct this camp. Miss Beveridge is a thoroughly experienced camp leader, and her sunny smile and jolly manner combine to make her an excellent camp director. She will have to assist her in the intermediate camp as leaders: Mrs. M. Hammond, Mrs. Emery, Mrs. Thompson, the Misses R. Craig, A. Waller, M. Knott and others.

The camp for girls fifteen years and over will be held from July 12 to 21, and will be under the capable direction of Mrs. W. P. Freeman. Well-known by Victoria girls as the director of the 1932 and 1933 camps, Mrs. Freeman is able fitted to lead this camp of senior girls and will give her happy nature to be remembered. She will be assisted by the following competent group leaders: The Misses R. Craig, A. Waller, M. Knott and others.

Girls intending to attend either of these camps are asked to register with Mrs. Maude Hammond, care of Y.W.C.A., not later than June 30 for the intermediate and July 7 for the senior camp.

Court Social Club—Court Maple Leaf A.O.P. Social Club will meet this evening at the home of Sister Fletcher, 3272 Quadra Street. Foresters, and friends will be welcome.

Uncle Wiggily's Busy Day

By HOWARD R. GARR

Uncle Wiggily was helping the Lady Mouse Teacher at the "Honey Stump School" take the pupils on a June Walk in the woods. Miss Mouse didn't want to go alone for fear of the Bad Cat. But she felt safer when Uncle Wiggily was there with his Cut Gun, which was a bean blower made of shiny tin.

It was a lovely day in June, just right for a walk, and Uncle Wiggily, who loved to be in the woods, thought he was going to have a very good time. He did, too, but not in just the way he thought.

When they had all walked along a short distance, with Uncle Wiggily in front of the procession and the teacher at the back, "now, children," Uncle Wiggily will give you some little lessons in nature study. Won't you, Mr. Longard?" she asked.

"Oh, yes," he answered, looking about to see if there was any nature near him. There were many things in the woods to be studied, but Uncle Wiggily hardly knew where to begin so he turned around, facing the animal boys and girls, and said:

"Is there any one who would like to ask a question about nature study and then I can answer it?"

"Speak up now, children," said Miss Mouse. "What is it, Billie? What do you want to know?"

"Well," blurted Billie, "why is it that a tree has a bark but you never hear it bark?"

"Ha, ha!" laughed Jackie Bow Wow. "That's a good question. Why does a tree have a bark that it never uses to bark a noise? Ha, ha!"

"I think that's a silly nature question!" said Baby Buntly, the orphan rabbit. "Tree bark is just like a dog's bark. Any, anyhow, a tree does make a noise. It sighs when the wind blows."

"Very true," said Miss Mouse. "Now, no more silly questions!"

"Littletail, a rabbit girl, raised her paw."

"Speak, Uncle Wiggily," spoke Susan. "can you find us a jack in the pulpit flower?"

"I think so," said the rabbit gentleman and he looked about until he had found what Susan wanted. He picked it and showed it to the class. In the center of a greenish-brown leaf that was curved to look like a pulpit, stood a tiny, round, pink flower. The top of the "pulpit" was curved over "Jack's" head like the hood of a rain coat.

"Another name for this flower," said Uncle Wiggily, "is Indian Turnip. But never think it is the kind of turnip you eat for it isn't. Perhaps the old Indians used the roots or bulbs of Pulpit Jack or medicine, but it is very bulky and smelly."

"The animal children said they never would."

"Now here is another curious plant," said Uncle Wiggily, walking on a little farther. He picked a flower that looked something like Pulpit Jack, but when the rabbit gentleman raised the top and tilted the flower, out ran a lot of clear water.

"Oh, that's great!" said Jingle. "What is it?"

"It is called the Pitcher Plant," said Uncle Wiggily. "Also Huntsman's Cup and it has a purple flower as well as this pitcher or cup."

"Is the water in it good to drink?" asked Pettie Bow Wow. "Because if it is, I'm thirsty."

"I think you had better drink at the next brook we come to," said Uncle Wiggily. "While there is some rain water in the Pitcher Plant, it also contains a sticky juice by which it catches the flies it eats."

"Oh, does the Pitcher Plant eat flies?" asked Susan.

"Flies and other bugs which fall into the cup and are kept from getting out by reason of tiny spikes pointing downward," explained the rabbit. "Then the flies drown and the plant absorbs or eats them."

"Gosh!" cried Billy Wagtail, "nature study sure is wonderful!"

The sisters of the Home League will be in charge and a cordial invitation is extended to the public. A short programme will be given and refreshments served. There will be no admission charge and a silver collection will be taken.

Daughters of St. George—The social meeting of Princess Patricia Lodge No. 238, Daughters of St. George, will be held on Friday evening in the R. of C. Hall, Government Street, at 7.30 p.m. It will be followed by a partner cot whist. Members and friends are cordially invited.

Just then Jackie Bow Wow saw a low bark and cried:

"Hey! Look at Baby Buntly! She's fallen in the brook! Surely enough in the orphan rabbit was seen floundering in the brook. But I'll get her out!" cried Jackie. He and Uncle Wiggily soon did this. Buntly was soaked through but not hurt at all.

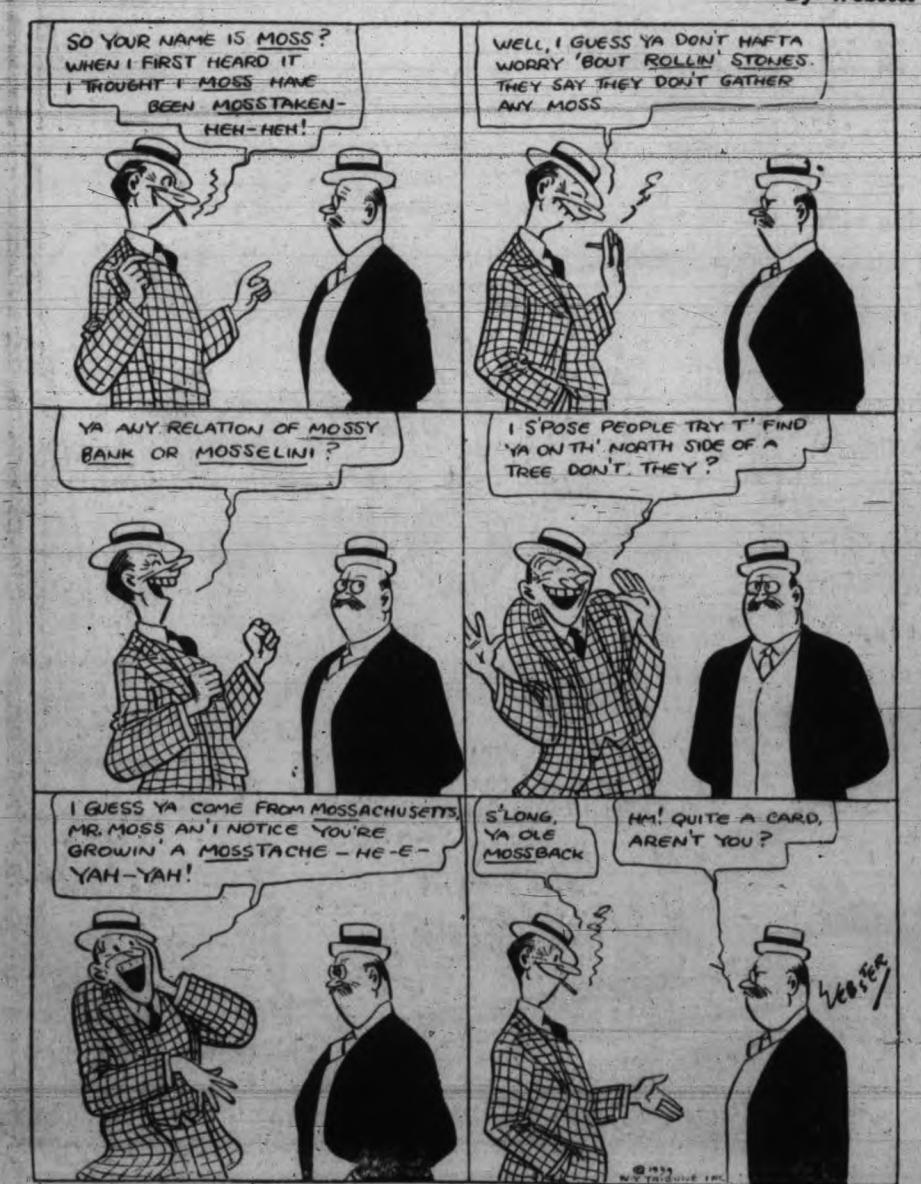

"Why did you fall in the brook?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I didn't fall in," said Buntly. "I jumped in. I wanted to see if the water was wet. It's sort of nature study you know," she laughed.

Then they went on June walking in the woods and having fun, more of which I'll tell you about in the story to-morrow which will be Uncle Wiggily's lucky show. But don't let the orange hide in the cellar when it's playing tag with the lemon.

How to keep your hair beautiful AND FREE FROM DANDRUFF

After a Listerine shampoo, scalp feels marvelously invigorated

If you wish to keep your hair beautiful, do not rely entirely on soap and water. They are not enough—the scalp must be sterilized occasionally.

Both scalp and hair are great dust catchers. Dirt, grime and germs quickly collect. Often dandruff forms. Unchecked, its deadly work goes on. The hair becomes lusterless and dull. An excessive amount of it comes out. The scalp itself becomes inflamed and irritated.

Keep your scalp clean

Why run such needless risks? It is so easy—and so pleasant—to combat them with Listerine. A recent questionnaire covering several hundred women shows that Listerine is their favorite lotion for the treatment of loose dandruff and irritated scalp.

Dissolves crusts and scales

As soon as Listerine touches your scalp, your head feels cleaner. You can actually feel Listerine washing away the dirt and loose dandruff surrounding the hair follicles. When the hair is dried, new lights show in it. It has life and luster. Inflammation is relieved and the scalp feels marvelously cool, clean, and stimulated.

Sets a wave quickly

You will be amazed how quickly and how nicely Listerine will set a wave. No long waits for sticky, messy preparations to dry out. No inconvenient trips to the beauty parlor. Simply apply Listerine full strength as you would water, and when it dries (usually seven to ten minutes) your wave is immaculate. What is more—it is a lovely, natural wave, not the hard, artificial thing of commerce. Try it yourself and see how simple, pleasant, and successful it is.

When dandruff is stubborn

When loose dandruff is especially persistent, apply Listerine every night, massaging vigorously. If your hair is excessively dry, use a little oil.

In our files we have reports from women telling us that even stubborn cases have responded in less than a week under the Listerine treatment. Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, Toronto, Ont.

Sooke Lures Holiday Seekers

Farms and Summer Resorts
All Ready For Vacation
Days

Sunny Sooke is calling! Sooke, a district that holds within its comparatively small area a network of scenic roads that rival any others on Vancouver Island. Sooke, that condenses within itself, picturesque mountain scenery, gentle farm lands and beautiful private residences.

But a short hour's run from Victoria, the main Sooke road passes through heavily wooded and broken country before it reaches the sea. Sooke Harbor is about three miles long and two miles wide and is almost completely landlocked. Whiffen Spit, at the mouth of the outer harbor, protects the quiet inner waters from the full force of the Juan de Fuca Strait—one single deep channel that allows the passage of boats being the only entry for the rushing waters. It is into the outer harbor that the Sooke River empties, and both the harbor and the river are well known to the fishing fraternity.

On the main road to Sooke is situated Ty Collwyn—"Place of Rest"—and it is safe to say no more peaceful spot to spend a holiday could be found in the district. The resort is built in the form of a spreading cottage, with wide verandas and bright sunny rooms facing the sea. The spacious grounds slope down to a private beach where the water is always warm. Private suites are available, and there is a stage right to the door. Best of all, there is fresh milk and cream, poultry and eggs, and farm produce from Ty Collwyn's own gardens and farms. For the passing motorist, lunches and teas are served with a minimum of delay that will delight the most fastidious.

A ROAD THAT CALLS

Following the main Sooke road beyond Ty Collwyn, one cannot but notice a sign that occurs at various intervals along the way. Two short words form the text—"The Bluff". Two words that contain within themselves all the magic of Sooke. The motorist, if he follows the sign, will turn off the highway on to a narrow road that winds between thick bushes and overhanging trees. This delightful shaded way leads to two heavy iron gates that stand open in a very inviting fashion. Still one is left in doubt as to the ultimate destination, for tall trees cling jealously close; only at the very last moment does the road shake itself free and swing

MANY BRIDLE PATHS TO BE FOUND IN LOVELY SOOKE DISTRICT

Many Vacation Resorts On West Saanich Highway

Brentwood, Patricia Bay and Deep Cove, All Within
Short Distance of Victoria

June! Warm summer days, sunshine that suffuses a cloudless sky from daylight until dark, then deep in the hearts of men stirs a wanderlust that will not be subdued. Every week-end sees a happy migration of pleasure seekers starting to explore Vancouver Island. Motor cars filled to overflowing, great buses with every seat taken, even the bicycle is pressed into service. Everyone longs to get out in the open and enjoy June's gypsy weather.

There are many roads to tempt the eager vacationist, many trails that lead to beautiful spots all over the island, but for a short week-end—or indeed a longer vacation—there is no road more fascinating than the West Saanich Highway to Brentwood, Patricia Bay and Deep Cove. The wise motorist will not, however, start to follow this highway with any thought of time in his mind, for it is impossible to hurry. The road winds and twists, leads down into cool green shadows, where great cedar and pine trees stand like sentinels over the lesser foliage of shrub and vine; up over hillsides, where prosperous looking orchards hang heavy with fruit. There are side roads, too, that tempt the pathfinder. One that will not be resisted goes up and away from the highway in an amazing series of spirals and curves. It leads to the very peak of Little Saanich Mountain, where the Dominion Observatory is situated. The view from the top of the mountain on a clear day is well worth the extra time taken to make the ascent, and the observatory itself will challenge anyone to a longer visit.

Back on the main highway, the motorist takes his leisurely way until he comes to the road to Butchart's gardens. Again he will be tempted to digress, for the gardens in June present a scene famous the world over.

BRENTWOOD BAY
From Butchart's, the road in its meanderings comes close to the sea, and soon a pointing sign tells the visitor that he is nearing Brentwood. Brentwood Bay is an inlet of the Saanich Arm. It almost resembles a great mountain lake, with the Malahat and surrounding wooded heights in the distance. It is one of the premier beauty spots of Vancouver Island, a centre of beauty and interest as well as for sport.

There are two roads that lead from the main highway to the bay. The first of these takes one down to the very water's edge and ends at the Anchorage, an up-to-date summer hotel, where teas and light lunches are served. There is a splendid beach and the bathing is excellent. The Anchorage also has a large boathouse where it is possible to rent anything from a canoe to an outboard. The grounds are well shaded and guests are assured of a real holiday atmosphere at this spot.

From the Anchorage a road follows the shoreline through the very heart of the summer colony, to end at the far side of the bay. Here, nestled among high oaks and towering maples one finds Brent Lodge. It overlooks the bay and its sloping grounds fall right to the shore. One may sit on the veranda and watch a marvelous sunset, or perhaps hear the salmon and grise leaping and splashing by day or night. Brent Lodge is open all year around, and there is fishing every day. In every way it meets the requirements of a well-appointed summer resort.

The whole of the Saanich Arm, from beyond Brentwood right out to Deep Cove, is famous for its salmon and grise fishing. Ardent fishermen come to try their luck on this great body of water. There are men living along the arm, who for years have watched every splash and sparkle of a fish's tail, who can tell what kind of a fish it is by the splash he makes as he rises for a fly. These are the men who conduct satisfactory fishing parties. Among them is Mr. Bob Stacey of Brentwood, Big and bluff, and very decided as to speech. Mr. Stacey will tell his party before he starts—"No fish, no pay!" But there are always fish, and so the visitor is happy to pay. Mr. Stacey has studied this fishing business for many years and his advice is reliable. For a fisherman, the fishing parties are always assured of success.

FOR FISHING AND PLEASURE
Boats, too, are very necessary to a fisherman's keen enjoyment. He does not want to waste all his energy pulling, or perhaps spend half the fishing hours priming a launch. A perfect fishing day is assured if the visitor hires his boat at Gilbert's Boathouse. Mr. Gilbert has a mighty fleet, ready and waiting to accommodate ardent fishermen. Every boat is in first class order, not only for fishing but for those who wish to spend an hour or so cruising on the calm waters of the arm. Mr. Gilbert's flotilla is located at the ferry landing at Moodyville, Brentwood Bay.

It is with a sigh of regret the motorist leaves the winding roads of Brentwood and strikes back to the main West Saanich Highway. Only at a moment, though, for soon new vistas stretch ahead. There is the long sloping hill that leads to Mount Newton, where the oldest farming district in Saanich is located. When this is passed there comes the winding descent to Patricia Bay, where a wide crescent of shining sand marks the beach. It is here that the motorist can bathe on the Saanich Peninsula. Patricia Bay is a district of private summer cottages, each one set in its own little bit of woodland overlooking the beach and the bay.

In and out along the shore darts the ribbon of highway beckoning the vacationist to follow. A few miles farther and there is Deep Cove, where the water is deep and where the fish run free; where along the shore the water is crystal clear and the bathing is a joy; where tall trees give welcome shade and narrow trails promise hidden beauties to those who will wander for a space on foot.

DEEP COVE
Deep Cove boasts two charming summer resorts. The Deep Cove Chalet is situated in a commanding position on the shore. Its sloping roofs and wide verandas give it a comfortable look of well being that is very restful to the traveler. There are wide lawns that run down to the water's edge and within a spacious lounge where many restful moments may be spent. The view from the chalet is one of the best on the bay. There are tennis courts, boats for hire and accommodation within the resort for a goodly number of guests. The chalet is also well known for its private dinners and its special catering for private parties.

For a restful holiday, in a garden all about with flowers, where perfect appointments and a dainty home-cooked food is a specialty, the Wilsona Inn at Deep Cove cannot be overlooked. The inn itself looks more like a palatial private home, but it is fitted with all the latest modern appliances that make for the comfort of paying guests. The garden is a thing of beauty, old-fashioned flower beds nodding sedately over the more up-to-date garden beauties. There is a private beach and a tennis court, and wide verandas where one may sit and watch the boats in the harbor. The Wilsona Inn makes a specialty of private luncheons and afternoon teas.

THE END OF THE TRAIL
From Deep Cove the West Saanich Highway dwindles into a narrow rutted road. The venturesome pathfinder may follow it and if he does he will be well rewarded. The trail leads to "Lands End." Beyond the farthest farm it goes right out to the very end of the Saanich Peninsula—and there it stops in a grassy clearing where two or three gnarled arbutus trees hold court over the winds that sweep the point. Across the dancing waters Salt Spring Island looms clear in the morning sunshine. Gulls dip and sweep over the water and as they go they shriek in queer, half mournful cadence. It is very still on the shore. The holiday seeker will turn away with peace in his heart, for when he will have followed the road he has chosen for his adventure to its very end.

Vancouver M.P.P. Speaks
For Liberals in Saskatchewan Election

Canadian Press
Regina, June 14.—Regina hummed with political activity yesterday evening, with G. G. McGeer, K.C., Vancouver M.P.P. and monetary system reformer, carrying on the battle for the Liberals before 2,000 people in a local dance hall. Premier J. T. M. Anderson and Hon. M. A. MacPherson, addressing 3,000 at a big meeting in the armories, and M. J. Coldwell, Farmer-Labor leader, enunciating his policies at a couple of small meetings. Mr. McGeer criticized bankers, the monetary system, the C.C.F., the Macmillan commission on banking, the gold standard and Toryism.

"In part at least," he said, "the cause of the depression is due to the mismanagement of those in control of the monetary system."

Rumors of "collusion" between Conservative and Farmer-Labor forces were denied by both Premier Anderson and Mr. Coldwell. The Conservative Party never had and never would have any connection with the C.C.F.

PLAN NEW RULES
FOR FRUIT TRADE

Canadian Press
London, June 14.—Arrangements have been made by a group of empire fruit growers for improving the quality, distribution and marketing of apples and pears in the United Kingdom without increasing the price to the consumers.

The growers, ending a conference here yesterday evening, recommended exclusion from the United Kingdom market of undesirable varieties in order to ensure regular and ample supplies of high quality.

They decided to create a permanent committee to sit in London in association with the empire producers' organization for the purpose of maintaining and developing co-operation.

The conference decided also to ask growers in the Dominions to adopt standard methods of packing and grading and a standard nomenclature.

P. A. Gibbs New Head
Of Festival Group

Succeeds W. H. Muncy As President of Musical Association; Annual Meeting
Held Yesterday Evening

P. A. Gibbs, who has had fifteen years' experience with the festival movement, including that with the Winnipeg competition, was elected president of the Victoria Musical Festival Association for 1934-35 at the general meeting in the council chamber at the City Hall yesterday evening. He succeeds W. H. Muncy, who declined to run for office this year and who was presented by Mr. Gibbs, on behalf of the retiring board of directors, with an attache case in recognition of his services.

Mr. Gibbs, a native of Cardiff, Wales, is an enthusiastic musician. He was a boy soloist with church choirs in Cardiff and also a member of the Cardiff Blue Ribbon Choir. In Winnipeg, he was at various times church soloist, organist and conductor, a member of the Men's Musical Club there and secretary of the Winnipeg Male Voice Choir. In Victoria, he is manager of the New Method Laundry Ltd. and a member of the Kiwanis Club, Pacific Club and Masonic brotherhood.

Other officers filled by acclamation included: First vice-president, Dr. Richard Pelton; second vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Radbourne; third vice-president, P. C. Routley; treasurer, Edgar S. Langford; recording secretary, Mrs. N. E. Fairweather; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. J. Mitchell.

In addition, there were six nominees for the five vacant positions on the board of directors. Three-year terms were voted W. H. Muncy, Major A. C. Hinton and Reginald Cox; a two-year term was voted Mr. T. Hardy, and a one-year term, Miss N. B. Ogier.

CHAIR OF MUSIC
The festival movement was a community movement of prime importance, said Mr. Gibbs, in his short talk thanking the gathering. Civic, educational and governmental officials should get behind it. If it was true there was a possibility of the school programme being revised, then it was sincerely to be hoped music would not be overlooked. The new board of directors might well urge the authorities to establish a chair of music in British Columbia, as had been done in Saskatchewan, he stated.

In his presidential address, Mr. Muncy extended the thanks of the association to the Victoria Music Teachers' Association, the City of Victoria, the local newspapers, Willis Pianos Limited, Fletcher Bros., and the Hudson's Bay Company.

He referred to the apprehensions felt by those in charge of the 1934 festival owing to general conditions, but pointed out that the entries had been greater than ever when it came to the time for competition.

Mr. Muncy mentioned the new five-side and conductor classes, saying they had been warmly welcomed, and he added that the opera and lieder events had for the second time proved themselves well worth while. He drew attention to the presence of the five mainstays in the last festival, and also of four fine orchestras. The practice of presenting certificates signed by the adjudicators instead of medals had also proved a good departure, he considered.

ADJUDICATORS FOR 1935
George Dodds and Maurice Jacobson would be two British adjudicators who would be here for the next festival, Mr. Muncy announced. Both have been here before and have met with wide approval.

During the 1933-34 year there had been an operating deficit of $25.64, said Mr. Gibbs, offering special thanks to Mrs. Hebert Gillespie and her "little army" of assistants, to the manager and staff of the Bank of Toronto, and Harold Hinton, chartered accountant.

The reports of the recording and corresponding secretaries were read by Mrs. Fairweather and Mrs. Mitchell, respectively. Two women whose work during the last year was rewarded by re-acclamation to their secretarial posts.

The question of what to do in the matter of musical and elocution school ships offered by local teachers was left in the hands of the incoming officers, on the passing of a motion made by H. A. Beckwith and seconded by Oliver Stout. It was felt by some that the principle of such scholarships needed consideration.

Edward Parsons's motion calling for an immediate sale of membership tickets for 1934-35 was passed.

It was announced the conference of west festival will be held in Calgary on July 2, 3 and 4, and that the matter of Victoria's proposed early 1935 festival dates will be gone into. It is planned to hold the next local festival at the end of March.

Speakers at School Meeting
Give Their Views of Saanich
Relief Situation

Views of the unemployed on recent developments in regard to Saanich relief matters were explained by several speakers who yesterday evening addressed a meeting of about 200 persons in the Mount View High School.

The gathering was sponsored by the Workers' Protective Association and was presided over by Edward Logan. The speakers devoted considerable time to criticizing the municipal council for alleged mismanagement and discrimination of relief. They repeated claims made at former meetings that the council was not administering relief fairly.

The relief workers' strike in the municipality was described by Arthur Hemming, an official of the protective association, while William B. White, president, reviewed events generally, and told of the incident at the municipal hall which had resulted in the arrest of P. D. Wilson and himself on a charge of obstructing a police officer.

Other speakers were: Ernest Trevelyan, Charles Buckingham, Harold Matthews, E. G. Pepper and Harold Peasland.

INDUSTRIALIST DIES
Great Neck, N.Y., June 14.—Howard S. Brown, fifty-nine, director of Maritime Steel Products Limited and the Grey Rapids Lumber Company Limited, Canadian concerns, died here yesterday.

Duncan, June 14.—A garden party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. O'Neill on Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of St. Andrew's Ladies' Guild. Tables were placed under the trees in the grounds and decorated with summer flowers. Mrs. Coyne and Mrs. Buckham, Mrs. Murchie, Mrs. Hattie and C. Wright, Mrs. D. R. Hattie and Coyne. The clock golf competition was won by Jack Wright.

W. A. Wilson, Animal Products Commissioner, Finds Readiness to Co-operate

"I have experienced a very keen desire throughout the country to meet competition in the British market through the policy of shipping uniformly packed and graded commodities," said W. A. Wilson, Canadian animal products commissioner in London, who is in the city after a six weeks' survey of the country.

The commissioner is at the Empress Hotel, where he will be pleased to see those interested in the marketing of animal products to-day and to-morrow.

With regard to bacon export, he said: "The brightest spot in Canadian agricultural production, in my judgment, is the opportunity for Canadian packers and farmers to sell Windsor bacon in the United Kingdom. It can be taken as a fact that the terms of the Ottawa agreement will be carried out by the British government covering the annual volume agreed upon, 280,000,000 pounds, over a five-year period, and the farmers and packers may safely plan accordingly. But it should always be born in mind that the annual quota is for bacon of good quality."

BACON EXPORTS
"Canadian bacon exported to the United Kingdom increased from 50,000 cwt. in 1931 to over 500,000 in 1933," said Mr. Wilson.

"The Canadian producers and packers should have as their objective the creation of such a condition in the trade of the United Kingdom by virtue of the quality of the product exported, that importers, wholesalers, retailers and consumers will have no reason for complaint at the end of the five-year period."

"Putting it even stronger, I would say that this condition should be reached two years before the five-year period ends, so that the satisfaction of Canadian bacon would be solidly fixed in the trade, and as a result would make easier any discussions concerning Canada's future supplies."

A similar goal should be the objective of the Canadian producers in the live cattle trade, the commissioner said. This goal could be obtained, he said, by the export of breedy types of suitable weight and finish.

There was a small proportion of rough animals being loaded, said Mr. Wilson in expressing the view that it would be decidedly to the advantage of the Canadian cattle trade in the United Kingdom if there was strict supervision to insure the export of the right type of animals.

Canada exported just over 52,000 head of cattle in 1933, which is less than four days' supply for the United Kingdom, he said.

In contrast, imports into the United Kingdom of chilled beef from the Argentine, which sells lower than fresh beef, was for each of nine months in the year over twice the number, in carcasses, of the Canadian shipments.

Australia in 1933 shipped to Britain 155,000 head and New Zealand 40,000 head, in carcasses, more than Canada.

C.C.F. CONVENTION
Winnipeg, June 14.—The annual convention of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation will be held in Winnipeg, June 17, 18 and 19. Announcement of the dates was made here yesterday evening by S. G. Farmer, M.P.P., Winnipeg, chairman of the Manitoba C.C.F. provincial council. The programme for the convention was being prepared, he said.

CHARLIE GARDINER

TRIBUTES TO GREAT GOALIE

"Chuck" Gardiner Was Real Inspiration to His Team, Says Frank Calder

Montreal, June 14.—President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League yesterday evening expressed the deepest regret at the death of Charlie Gardiner, popular goalkeeper of the Chicago Black Hawks. Mr. Calder was reached with the word of the death shortly before his departure for New York to attend the N.H.L. meeting to-day.

President Calder paid the following tribute to the doctored goalie: "News of Chuck Gardiner's untimely death comes as a great shock to all the hockey family as it must to the thousands of hockey fans the continent over who admired him much for his skill and more for his courage."

"No matter how tough the going was Chuck was always a cheery soul and a real inspiration to the team in front of him. During his years with the Chicago Hawks I came to know him well and to appreciate the sterling qualities which made up his character."

"He was a sportsman from his head to his heels as well as one of the greatest goalkeepers the game ever produced."

"His loss is irreparable."

GORMAN SHOCKED
New York, June 14.—Magnates gathered here for to-day's National Hockey League meeting, lesser officials and New York hockey fanatics in general were stunned yesterday evening on hearing of the death of Charles "Chuck" Gardiner, popular net-minder of Chicago-Black Hawks, world champions.

"He was the greatest goalkeeper that ever donned the pads," said Thomas P. Gorman, former manager of the Hawks and now general manager of Montreal Forum. "He was the greatest single factor in the winning of the Stanley Cup."

"Words fail to express my sorrow at his passing. I feel completely broken up about it. Chuck, as he was called, was a great player and a great person. He was a great single factor in the winning of the Stanley Cup."

"The winning of the championship for Chicago was his paramount aim at that time. The night we lost to Detroit, 6 to 2, in the playoffs, Chuck was a sick boy, but no amount of urging could get him to stay out of the game."

"His exhibition of courage then was typical of the boy at all times. The team first, himself last—that was Charlie. We will never have another like him."

CHUCK'S IDOL GONE
Toronto, June 14.—"It's terrible—simply terrible. There was no one else on earth like him. It doesn't seem possible to believe that Charlie is dead." Will Oude's voice broke as he heard late yesterday evening of his boyhood idol who is dead—Chuck Gardiner.

"Yes, he was always my idol, from the time we went to public school together," the young goaltender of Detroit Red Wings, National Hockey League champions, said. "He helped me get started in the game and he was always my inspiration, even last spring, when we were face to face in the Stanley Cup series."

"That was the supreme moment of my hockey career. Just to see Charlie skate out on the ice and into the other net buoyed me up. We had often talked of such a possibility when we were kids, but we never dreamed it would come true. He was great in that series, too, and he deserved to win."

"Hockey will never be the same without him. He was the greatest goalie I ever saw—far better than any other. And in addition he was a great person. He was a great person, even around the circuit. I can't express my personal feelings about his death. I had no idea he was even ill."

Supreme Showman Of Winter Sport

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, June 14.—The supreme showman of the sport, the grinning, curly-headed who was both a successful clown and the game's greatest goaltender, Charlie "Chuck" Gardiner, rested to-day in the glory of hockey immortality. His death was mourned across the length and breadth of the hockey world.

At the peak of his spectacular career in the National Hockey League, winner of all the symbols of greatness within reach of a big-time goalie, Gardiner returned home two months ago from the scene of his last triumph—today. At the time he complained only of pains in the head.

He was captain of the Chicago Black Hawks, Stanley Cup champions. The Vezina Trophy, the N.H.L. award to the season's most valuable goalie, was his for the second time. He had been selected almost unanimously on the all-star team by Canadian and United States sports writers.

But he was unwell. Yesterday he died in the hospital to which he had been taken only a few hours before. Hemorrhage of the brain, which caused him to collapse last Sunday, was given as the cause of death.

HAD CONVULSIONS
Dr. W. G. Macintosh said a series of unsmiling convulsions brought about the brain hemorrhage. The condition was his for the second time. He had been selected almost unanimously on the all-star team by Canadian and United States sports writers.

Edmonton Girls Retain International Basketball Championship By Defeating Tulsa For Third Time 41 to 31; Brilliant Finish

Canadian Press
Edmonton, June 14.—Edmonton Commercial Grads, international women's basketball champions since 1933, yesterday evening retained their title by defeating the Tulsa, Oklahoma, Steingraders, 48 to 41, in the final game of a three-out-of-five series. Grads took the first two games 41 to 31, and 35 to 28.

Throughout the battle the score fluctuated continually, and for practically all the game, no more than a few points separated the two great clubs, until the last few minutes of the sensational fourth quarter of play. Then, with about four minutes to go, the Grads shot into the lead and they won the ball game in decisive manner.

In this final, pulsating moments, the capacity crowd across as one man, cheering Grads to the echo. The arena was in a bedlam at the conclusion.

Yesterday evening's victory was all the sweeter as the Grads, who suffered defeat at the hands of Durant Cardinals last year, defeated, in winning over Tulsa, the team that had just recently knocked over the Cardinals. Incidentally Grads lost a third series with Durant the chance to go overseas and defend their championship at the British Empire Games in London.

GRADS MAY TRAVEL
Since that series, however, it has been reported the United States Basketball Association has been informed Durant cannot make the trip. Now there is a chance Grads, having decisively whipped the conquerors of Durant Cardinals, may be in line to make the trip. President Bingham of the U.S.B.A. is now making a decision on the matter, it is reported here.

The game here yesterday evening was the climax of three brilliant exhibitions of basketball. For more than three-quarters, Tulsa was full value for a victory, and it was anybody's game until the last four minutes. Then the champions, calling on their last ounce of energy and with all the courage in the world, put on even greater pressure to not only hold their opponents in check, but force to the front with a burst of dazzling speed and basket-shooting that could not be denied.

It was Noel MacDonald, the "baby Grads," who was the outstanding star for the Grads' triumph. She finished the game with twenty points for her credit, far outdistancing Margaret MacBurey, other sharp-shooter of the Grads.

GREAT PLAYER
For Tulsa, Hazel Walker gave a polished display, notching fifteen points, and just one point behind her was Frances Dunlap, who had fourteen. The Dunlap girl is unquestionably the greatest basketball handler who has ever played here. She was the main cog in the Tulsa attack, and continually worried the Grads defense with her lightning thrusts on goal and her sturdy, hard-checking game.

At the conclusion of the match, Grads were presented with the Unadorned Trophy, emblematic of international women's basketball championship, by Harry Wilson, referee from Chicago, and who represented the U.S.B.A. for the series.

Teams and scores follow:
Tulsa-Walker 15, Dunlap 14, Williams 4, Adlan, Wilkie 2, Poole, Hickman 4.
Grads—MacBurey 6, Belanger 6, Fry 6, Neale 5, Stone 2, Bennie, MacDonald 20, Innes.
Referee, Bill Douglas, Winnipeg; umpire, Harry Wilson, Chicago.

MARSHALL WINNER
Reading, Pa., June 14.—Everett Marshall, 220, Colorado, tossed George Hagen, 212, New York, with an arm pull and body press in fifteen minutes in the stipud in an outdoor wrestling show yesterday evening.

Washington Wins Pair To Move Up

American Baseball League Champions Regain First Division Berth By Double Victory Over Chicago; New York Giants Continue Winning Ways

Washington Senators, like the team which beat them in the world series last fall, New York Giants, have been saying it with hits this season since their pitchers have not been performing so well as last year.

At the last semi-official check-up last week Senators had about thirty more hits to their credit than their nearest American League rival, although they had not done so well in scoring. Yesterday they walloped Chicago White Sox in both games of a doubleheader, 11 to 3 and 13 to 11.

Manager Joe Cronin was the big gun of the assault, as he made three hits and drove in five runs in each contest, and contributed a timely homer in the second.

The two triumphs only served to return the Senators to a first division place by a few percentage points over the St. Louis Browns, who took a 6 to 2 beating from the New York Yankees as Lefty Gomez pitched six-hit ball for his tenth victory.

DETROIT BEATEN
Yankees victory put them a game closer to the top when Detroit lost 15 to 13 in a slugfest with Boston. With "Sugar" Cain hurling five-hit ball, Philadelphia Athletics won the fourth American League game from Cleveland 11 to 2.

A pair of young left-handers provided the big news of the National League. Curt Davis, Phillies, limited Chicago Cubs to seven hits and came out with a 2 to 1 decision, and Ted Kleinhaus, Cincinnati, gave the league-leading New York Giants a scare before he finally went out in the seventh and New York won 6 to 4.

Frankhouse, a St. Louis "jinx," made it easy for Boston to beat the Cardinals 9 to 0 when he held them to six hits. Pittsburgh's batters had a field-day at the expense of Brooklyn pitchers, hanging out seventeen hits to win 15 to 2.

Betting Odds Take Sudden Shift as Day of Bout Arrives; Over 15 Rounds

$400,000 GATE IS PREDICTED

New York, June 14.—Convinced anything can happen when Primo Carnera and Max Baer start swinging to-night in the sunken arena built by the ex-millionaires of Madison Square Garden, the fight elans staged an old-fashioned rally to-day in anticipation of one of the most fantastic fights ever waged for the heavyweight championship of the world. The turmoil of the big town was a far cry from those glamorous days of 1921 when Tex Rickard convinced the faithful Georges Carpentier had a chance to beat Jack Dempsey. For one thing, times have changed radically with the flutic business. For another, the "international angle" has been overworked but perhaps 50,000 will go to see whether the California song and dance man can topple the 260-pound Italian Goliath within the limit of fifteen rounds. EXPECT $400,000

Promoters, more optimistic than confident, predicted 60,000 cash customers would contribute to a gate of nearly $400,000. Good weather was forecast, however, and a late rush anticipated.

The latest shift in betting odds today found Carnera no better than a 6-to-5 choice to retain the title he won last year on a knockout from Jack Sharkey and which he has twice defended, with some difficulty, against Paulino Uzcudun, the old Spanish woodchopper, and Tommy Loughran, the Philadelphia veteran.

BOTH CONFIDENT

The following statements on the heavyweight title fight were made by the principals.

Carnera—Without saying I will knock out Baer, I will say positively I will retain my title. I am feeling great. I am ready for the fight. I am prepared to do my best and I hope the people will be satisfied. The trouble in my throat will not bother me. If I thought it would, I would not enter the ring.

Baer—I am going to leave the ring to-morrow the new world heavyweight champion. I have been confident of this since the time I signed for the bout. It became sure last week when I found it so easy to "ride" Carnera when we met at the State Athletic Commission examination. He is easily flustered and that is in his favor. I am in perfect condition, despite the criticism my training workouts aroused. I'll knock Carnera out with a single punch if I can.

Facts and figures on the fight follow: Principals—Primo Carnera, Italy, defending champion, 268 pounds; Max Baer, California, challenger, 208 lbs.—Madison Square Garden Bowl in Long Island City, L.I. Time—8 p.m. E.S.T. (6 p.m. Victoria time) Odds—5 to 1 on Carnera to win, 2 to 1 against Baer scoring a knockout, 3 to 1 against Carnera scoring a knockout. Probable attendance—40,000. Division of receipts—Milk fund, 10 per cent of net; Carnera, 40 per cent of remainder; Baer, 25 per cent.

Rifle Shooting

Master Gunner H. Collins, of the Garrison, yesterday topped the marksmen in the regular mid-week shoot of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association, turning in a total of 93, with a 49 at the 300 yard range and 44 at 500.

Mrs. H. Hays, shooting for the Canadian Scottish, was second, with 90 and her teammate, Captain W. E. Tanley, third, one point below her.

MASCALL TO MEET LACEY

Popular Wrestlers to Clash in Feature Event at Mount Stephen To-morrow

In what may prove his last bout locally, "Spider" Mascall will headline the Mount Stephen Athletic Club wrestling and boxing card to-morrow evening in a bout against Jack Lacey. The first event is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Mascall, whose tactics have amused many people, will stake his island championship in his bout with Lacey. It will probably be Mascall's final bout on the island, as he is leaving for Kamloops in a few weeks, where he hopes to establish a school of wrestling.

Two top-notch grapplers will meet in the semi-windup, when Rudy Loefler will meet George Lowy in a return bout.

Fred Henry will battle "Shadow" Johns, a boxer whose recent draw with Tommy Kimoto, flashy Japanese boxer, won him the right to meet Henry. Both are newcomers to the club, and their bout should be keen.

Alan Laird, Mt. Stephen's Club's wrestler-boxer, will grapple a popular favorite when he meets Wally Edwards, the Cedar Hill Wildcat.

The opener should prove another fine bout, when two midweight meet. Roger Brayshaw will trade punches with K. O. Knowles.

Louis Culham, Victoria's "fighting policeman," will box an opponent to be selected later.

Odd Accident Kills Fighter

Barcelona, Spain, June 14.—A boxer named Martin Segundo was killed in the prize ring yesterday evening in one of the strangest accidents on record.

Knocked against the ropes by Joe Blay, Segundo struck one of them with his neck and he died without being able to catch his breath, although physicians said he was not otherwise injured.

He explained the blow from the ropes had acted upon the trachea, or windpipe, the tube through which air passes from the larynx to the lungs.

THISTLES WIN SECOND HALF

Reg Mail's Goal Gives Saanich Lone Tally Against Victoria West Soccer Team

One smart drive from Reg Mail's boot, which sent the ball into the net for the only tally of the game, gave Saanich Thistles a 1 to 0 verdict over Victoria West in yesterday evening's play-off fixture for the Pacific Coast Football League first division second half laurels at Heywood Avenue grounds.

The victory sent the Thistles into the league final against Esquimalt at the Athletic Park a week from Saturday.

West had lots of chances to score, but passed up their opportunities in front of the Saanich net.

The Thistles' goal came in the first half when Mail got his boot to Nole Morgan's cross and drove it into the goal.

With the sun and wind in their favor, the Saanich team had a decided edge during the first half. Sporadic attacks of the West counted for nothing.

WESTS PRESS When they changed over the green-shirted started to do the pressing, dominating virtually all departments of the game. Wests rifled in a smart drive, but Rowe saved spectacularly to avert a score.

Robinson skied over the bar with no one to beat, but the goalie, and Youson shot hard, but Rowe was safe.

The Wests kept up their attacks, but could not make them count. The game, Wests rifled in a smart drive, but Rowe saved spectacularly to avert a score.

GRAY STARS IN VICTORY

Allows Two Hits as Arrows Defeat Arnold and Quigley in Vancouver Ball

Vancouver, June 14.—While Dave Gray hurled two-hit ball, his Arrows team-mates combined a five-hit barrage with a half-dozen errors by the opposition to score all their runs in the first two innings, and defeated Arnold and Quigley, 7 to 0, in a senior city baseball game here yesterday evening.

Arrows landed on Earl Lewis, starting cloister hurler, for three hits in the first frame, and with the aid of four errors ran in four runs. Three hits and two more errors in the second gave them three more runs.

Holden, who relieved Lewis in the second, held the Arrows scoreless the rest of the game with four hits. Gray had little trouble with the A. and Q. batters, and allowed only two scattered safeties.

Short score: R. H. E. Arrows..... 7 9 0 Arnold and Quigley..... 0 2 0 Batteries—Gray and Henry; Lewis, Holden and Stagg.

TRIBUTES TO GREAT GOALIE

Charlie Gardner, Chicago Black Hawks' goalie, came as a terrific shock to members of the Hawks residing here and to other players who had been with Gardner in the early days of Chicago's entry into the National Hockey League.

Russell "Barney" Stanley, former manager of the Chicago Black Hawks, was instrumental in having Gardner enter professional hockey. Stanley, in 1929, signed Gardner to play with the Winnipeg Maroons. Then in the summer of 1927 he signed Gardner to a Chicago contract.

"Ever since that time," Stanley said yesterday evening, "Chuck" has played a marvelous game in goal for the Black Hawks. I always found him to be one of the finest boys in hockey and a clean-living sportsman, a man you could always depend upon."

"That's a terrific shock to me," said Gordon B. "Duke" Reals, manager of the Edmonton Eskimos in the North-west professional league. "I was very close to 'Chuck' when we were both playing on the Chicago team. He was one of the greatest goalies that ever lived. His death will be a terrific blow to the Hawks."

"I have only been three years with the Hawks," said Roger Jenkins, partner of Lionel Conacher on the Chicago defence, "but during those years I got to know and appreciate to the full 'Chuck' Gardner. He was a real man and a man who was always good to the newcomers. Last season was my first to play regularly in front of him. He was the greatest goalkeeper in the world. I am awfully sorry to hear of his death."

Louis Trudel and Johnny Sheppard, other members of the Hawks, were also shocked by news of Gardner's sudden passing.

THOMPSON BROKEN UP Calgary, June 14.—Tiny Thompson, Boston Bruins, in the National Hockey League, felt badly broken up, he said, when told of the death of "Chuck" Gardner, his rival for goaltending honors in the N.H.L. during the last half-dozen years.

"His death is certainly a great loss to the game," he said. "He was a particularly good friend of mine and it was a great shock to me."

Larwood to Play In Next Classic

Canadian Press London, June 14.—Indication England will go all out to avenge the victory of the Australians in the first test cricket match of the season was seen to-day in announcement Harold "Lightning" Larwood will play in the second test match. It will open at Lord's on June 22.

GASMEN WILL MEET EAGLES

Twilight Baseball League Clubs Hook Up To-night at Athletic Park

Archie Hubbard's fighting Pitzer and Nex ball nine will be gunning for their initial victory of the season at the Athletic Park this evening when they stack up against the Eagles in a Twilight League fixture at 6:15 o'clock.

As an added attraction officials of the league have made arrangements to have a loud speaker radio installed in the grandstand in order that ball fans may hear the broadcast of the world's heavyweight championship fight between Primo Carnera and Max Baer.

Joe Emery, speed ball artist, will go to the mound for the feathered tribe with Henry Woodford at the receiving end.

At Mummery, veteran mound ace, will do the heavy work for the Gasmen, with Manager Hubbard completing the battery.

With rival squads fighting for a much-needed victory, the fixture should be keenly contested all of the way.

Vancouver May Get B.C. Title Fights

Gordon Woodridge, A.A.U. official, announced to-day that tentative arrangements had been made to hold the British Columbia boxing and wrestling championships at Vancouver on July 2, 3 and 4.

HANSON WINS BOUT

Cleveland, O., June 14 (Associated Press).—A new type of heart surgery, promising an avenue of escape from the present tremendous heart-death rate, was proposed to the American Medical Association yesterday by Dr. Claude S. Beck, Cleveland surgeon. He pictured surgeons in the near future operating directly on hearts. The hearts will be patched literally, he predicted, with grafts of tissue taken from other parts of the body.

CHAPMAN STAR IN BALL WIN

Collects Four Hits, Including Home Run, to Lead Tilliums to 11 to 5 Victory Over Poodle Dog; Lloyd Jones Is Winning Hurler

A circuit smash to deep right field by Art Chapman, who patrols the left outer garden for the Tilliums' ball nine, was the highlight of yesterday evening's Senior Amateur Baseball League fixture at the Athletic Park in which the clubmen walloped the Poodle Dog Cafe nine, 11 to 5. The homer came in the eighth inning with two men down and Taylor occupying the keystone bag. It was a hard drive to the right garden, the ball bouncing over the head of Herb Cummins, Poodle Dog Cafe outfielder, and continuing on its journey to the Pembroke Street fence.

Chapman's trusty willow provided the punch for considerable of the Tilliums' attack and was responsible for driving in five of the eleven markers garnered by the clubmen. Out of five trips to the plate Chapman collected four safeties, which included a homer and a double.

The victory placed the Tilliums right in the pennant chase and ousted the Cafemen from first place in favor of the idle Sons of Canada nine. To-morrow, the clubmen face the Canadians, and another victory will create a triple tie in the race for the bunting.

HOLDEN HIT HARD—Leo Holden, paraded to the mound for the Cafemen, and managed to shutout the Tilliums for three innings. In the fourth session the clubmen broke into the scoring column when they drove in two markers, and continued this attack in the fifth and sixth innings by adding three runs in each stanza.

With the opening of the last half of the seventh stanza Dan Lidstone replaced Holden on the mound for the Poodle Dog Cafe.

Lidstone held the battling Tilliums scoreless in the seventh, but three safeties, including Art Chapman's circuit drive, gave the clubmen three markers in the eighth stanza.

SHAKY START—Lloyd Jones, who went the distance for the winners, bumped into early trouble, but after a shaky first inning, he settled down and heaved good ball

Ss. Princess Joan Will Inaugurate Afternoon Run Between Victoria and Port Angeles; Ss. Tacoma In To-day With Seattle Excursion

Extra summer service between Victoria and Port Angeles will be inaugurated to-morrow afternoon by the Ss. Princess Joan, which, by her sister-ship, the Princess Elizabeth, has been chartered by the Puget Sound Navigation Company of Seattle from the B.C. Coast Service. The Joan and Elizabeth will operate on alternate days, making one round trip each day until the middle of September.

The Joan or the Elizabeth will leave the Belleville Street docks at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon, except Sunday, reaching Port Angeles at 5:05 o'clock and leaving on the return trip at 5 o'clock, arriving here at 6:35 o'clock.

On Sundays the schedule will be slightly advanced, the ship leaving Victoria at 2:15 o'clock, reaching Port Angeles at 4:50 o'clock and leaving on the return trip at 4:30 o'clock, arriving at 6:05 o'clock.

With the daily service given by the Ss. Iroquois, Victoria will be well connected with Port Angeles. Victorians wishing a day in the city across the Straits may leave here in the morning at 8 o'clock by the Iroquois and return aboard the Princess Joan or Princess Elizabeth at 3 o'clock week-day afternoons or at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evenings.

Special rates will be offered Victorians for week-ends and Sundays.

Motor travel between Victoria and Port Angeles, and between Sidney and Victoria, has been extremely good so far this year. A. C. Stickley, local agent for the Puget Sound Navigation Company, said this morning.

The Iroquois and the Quilness have been bringing many tourists to Vancouver Island. The additional service by the Joan and the Elizabeth, and the opening of the Sidney-Stevedore route by the Ss. Motor Princess on Saturday is expected to attract still more motorists to the island.

EXCURSION TO-DAY
The first of the semi-weekly excursions which the Ss. Tacoma will bring to Victoria from Seattle during the summer months, was made to-day, the steamer reaching the Belleville Street docks early this afternoon. She will remain here until 5 o'clock before starting her return trip. The Tacoma will come to Victoria each Tuesday and Thursday and will bring to Victoria from Seattle.

Willbur Thompson, former purser of the Iroquois, who has been away on sick leave for some months, has been appointed purser of the Tacoma. It was learned this morning.

TITLES

ate handle, posterity makes things right by remembering them only by their proper names. Among stakeholders the names of Dorell and Asquith will be remembered when the Earl of Beaconsfield and Oxford are forgotten. Titles in feudalistic times had their place as denoting positions of responsibility and obligation, but are altogether unfitted to this Canada of ours; and Canadians should resent this attempt to perpetuate a snobocracy of which the Dominion has already too much, and even this humble city of Victoria has more than its share.

FREE SHOWS FOR RELIEF FAMILIES

To the Editor:—There has been much discussion about the distribution of free theatre tickets for relief families. I had only one thought in mind when I wrote the letter. It was the lives of others, so as to make their existence more pleasant.

At that time I bought the tickets and gave them to the city relief office for distribution. But of late they have been given out from room 318

THREE SHIPS AT ONE TIME KEEP ESQUIMALT DRYDOCK BUSY

For the first time since the Dominion Government opened its $6,000,000 drydock in Esquimalt harbor in 1926, three ships were floated in at the one time the other day. In the seaward section is the Princess Elizabeth. In the middle is the Salvage King and then the Princess Louise. These ships were floated out yesterday and were back in the inner harbor this morning.

WRITES NAMES ON RICE GRAIN

Young Japanese, Visitor Here, Will Give Exhibitions at Chicago World's Fair

On his way to Chicago, where he is to be one of the stellar attractions in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" section at the World's Fair, Hiroshi Homma, clever young Japanese penmanship artist, was a visitor to Victoria for two days this week, having arrived from Tokyo Tuesday morning aboard the Ss. President Jackson.

Homma got his name in one of Ripley's drawings one time for having written the Lord's Prayer on a grain of rice. He became world-famous for his skill and lettering in miniature, and will give exhibitions at the fair.

Coming across the North Pacific aboard the President Jackson, Homma amused and amazed his fellow passengers by writing their names on grains of rice. The writing was so small it was hardly decipherable, but under a magnifying glass it could be read quite plainly, the passengers said.

Homma left Victoria yesterday afternoon by the Ss. Princess Alice for Seattle and took passage aboard the North Coast Limited of the Northern Pacific Railway for Chicago. He will remain until the close of the fair in September. He will then return to Japan, probably passing again through Victoria.

Sayward Building and from an organization at 724 Port Street, as the relief office stated that they had all they could attend to without people coming down at 8 o'clock in the morning for tickets, to which I agree.

Would those who know of better ways to distribute tickets for any good purposes to the relief families tell me how to get them to the ones who deserve them?

COACH EXCURSION

The first excursion trip of the summer to Qualicum Beach has been arranged for Sunday next by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines. Buses will leave the Broughton Street depot at 9:15 o'clock in the morning and on the return trip will leave Qualicum at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. The run will take about four hours.

Special trips will also be taken this Sunday to Deep Cove and Patricia Bay and to Sooke. Coaches on these trips will leave Victoria at 10 o'clock in the morning and will leave the other terminals at 6 o'clock.

Sunday, June 24, something new in coach excursions will be inaugurated. A mystery trip will be taken. The driver of the coach will be given sealed orders, which will be opened after leaving the depot.

TANTALUS OFF TO SAN PEDRO

Will Make Attempt to Get Cargo Discharged in South; Jackson Goes to Seattle

Hoping to get her cargo discharged at Los Angeles harbor, the Blue Funnel Line motorship Tantalus sailed from Victoria yesterday evening at 8:40 o'clock for the southern California port, after awaiting orders here for twenty-four hours. The longshoremen's strike has not yet been settled by the union.

Besides her own cargo the Tantalus has in her holds a parcel of the Tantalus. The transfer was made last week off White Rock. There are about 5,000 tons of general Oriental freight aboard the Tantalus.

If the cargo is taken off the ship at the southern port, the Tantalus will probably make a quick run back to the northwest to load cargo at Vancouver and also at Seattle, if the strike is settled by that time.

The Ss. President Jackson, which arrived from the Orient Tuesday morning and tied up here, left the Rithet docks this morning at 4 o'clock and proceeded to Seattle to join the fleet of idle ships there, including her sister ships, the President Grant and President McKinley, which still have Orient freight in their holds, although they have been in Seattle for four weeks and two weeks, respectively.

The lumber carrier Anglo-Canadian, awaiting orders, was still riding at anchor in the Royal Roads. This morning she will go to Puget Sound ports as soon as the strike is settled.

ALPINE CAMP IS PLANNED

Annual Affair Will Be Held in Rocky Mountain, Near Jasper Starting July 16

Jasper, Alta., June 14.—Making ready for the opening of the twenty-ninth annual camp of the Alpine Club of Canada on July 16, the National Parks Department has nearly completed the trail from Viewpoint on the Astoria Road to beautiful Chromo Lake, a short distance below the camp.

Situated in the Eremita Valley, at the apex of an extraordinary horse-shoe of mountains, which includes fourteen peaks, all but one over 10,000 feet, the camp has unique advantage, as a climbing centre. One of the principal attractions will be a two-day circuit of Simon Peak during which six glaciers will be crossed and the tremendous gorge of Geikie Creek visited.

Known as "The Chamonix of Canada," the area is quite unspoiled and a major problem in mountaineering offers itself in Needle Peak, challenging and unclimbed. One hour from the main camp lies Memorial Hut, one of the club's Rocky Mountain outposts, which will be used as a base for the ascent of the more difficult peaks of the southern Ramaparts.

Camp will continue from July 16 to July 31 under the management of Major W. R. Tweedy of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer. The annual meeting of the Alpine Club will take place in the Eremita Valley on July 27, when officers will be elected. The camp is an airline distance of about twelve miles southwest of Jasper.

Labor, beaten by Murray-Phillipson by a majority of 2,800 in a straight fight in a by-election in 1932. Polling will take place June 22.

HEAVY TRAVEL IN MOUNTAINS

Summer Resorts and Bungalow Camps Expect Busy Time This Season

Banff, June 14.—With early tourist movement in the Canadian Rockies exceeding that of last year by a large margin, opening day for the network of hotels and bungalow camps operated in the area by the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been advanced considerably.

Chateau Lake Louise and Emerald Lake Chalet near Field will be opened to the public to-morrow with a considerable waiting list of tourists who will take advantage of the early week-end. Such camps as Radium, Castle Mountain and Wapta will open on June 22.

Banff Springs Hotel was officially opened yesterday with a guest list higher than that seen on a much later opening date last year. For a week before the opening, however, the big hotel had been entering more than 850 members of the Oxford Group.

One of the first guests at Banff Springs this year was the celebrated radio and screen star, Kate Smith, who is spending a holiday here before going through Canada to Montreal and New York.

Both train and auto travel through the mountains is heavier than last year, an earlier season providing bright summer weather for the tourists.

ORANGE CROP
NOT SO GOOD

On a continental motor tour, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Morris, of Haverford, Pennsylvania, have arrived in Victoria via southern California.

Mr. Morris is a retired mechanical engineer, who wanted to see the country in his own time, and since he left his home in Haverford six months ago he has seen most of the states of the union. He came to Victoria after spending considerable time at Redlands, Cal.

The orange crop of California was not a success this year, said Mr. Morris in discussing conditions in the south. The growers broke just about even, he said.

The water-front strike has seriously affected the coast tourist business, the visitor stated. Even if the strike was settled now it is doubtful whether the coast tourist business would be normal for the season as those contemplating using the steamer routes have made other plans. Automobile travel, however, will be good this year, the traveler believes.

After looking over Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Morris, who are at the Empress Hotel, plan to leave on their homeward trip to Haverford.

WINS AWARD
OF CARNEGIE

Lionel H. Laing Adds Peace
Fellowship to Long List of Successes

Lionel H. Laing of Victoria has been awarded a fellowship by the Division of International Law of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace of Washington, D.C.

The purpose of the fellowship is to investigate the sources of and prepare a collection of documents on international law as relating to Canada. This will include cases determined in Canadian courts and in foreign countries where Canadians are involved. It will also contain copies of state documents and pronouncements illustrating the position of Canada on international affairs, together with extracts from and addresses and letters of Canadian statesmen.

The collection will be compiled to meet a demand by universities across Canada that such a compilation should be made to assist and promote the teaching of international law and relations in Canadian colleges.

Mr. Laing, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Laing, 1122 Ormond Street, attended high school, normal school and college requirements for teaching in the public schools of Kamloops, later returning to the University of British Columbia. From there he graduated with honors in M.A. in history and was appointed American Antiquarian Society Fellow in 1928.

On this subject Mr. Laing prepared a paper for the British Commonwealth Relations Conference last summer, at which representatives from all parts of the empire attended, including such men as Viscount Cecil, Sir Herbert Samuel, Sir Robert Borden, Hon. Dornie Stewart and other leading figures in the political and academic life of the empire.

At this conference Mr. Laing acted as secretary to the Canadian delegation and was a member of the general conference secretariat.

DROUTH FORCES 20-MILE WATER HAUL FOR LIVESTOCK

Now farmers are on the water wagon in earnest as a result of the drouth that has dried wells and seared crops over the entire midwest, taking toll of millions. Here are shown members of the Gaul family, with their truck and the tank in which they haul water twenty miles from Des Moines to their farm for their livestock. The family's own supply is transported in milk cans.

change just one sheet a week, putting the upper one where the lower one was to cut down laundry bills! During the period of increased activity, food receives special preparation. The cook is told to concentrate on a certain menu and the maid is told just when to present it before her mistress. Often milk farms, where liquid nourishment is alone given, are advised.

Of course there should not be any relation between this fact and the mothers who are trying to save the few cents daily that will let them buy milk with cream for their children instead of the skimmed variety. We will not talk about those who are not getting any milk at all. The recuperating ladies couldn't stand that.

There are other pictures, too, that are strange to those who can concentrate on rest. Women are carrying lunch pails down the mines to their working husbands. Women are standing at machines in factories. They are tired, but not sad. The last few years have brought emotional weariness that is greater than physical weariness can ever be. Hearts have been bruised, dreams broken, idols chipped. Now that the black factory smoke belches into the sky again, they are tired—but happy. Rest? Perhaps, sometime, when they are very old and their fingers are twisted from much labor.

But there are those who must take a special rest cure just because it is spring. Oh, it would be splendid, of course, if everyone could do so. There is no discredit to those who do only—once in a while even an unmathematical mind begins to wonder about a sense of proportion. Still—I never did understand the theory of relativity or what the Queen of Siam does for recreation, or how Ninon d'Enclos kept her beaux coming until she was far past seventy. The rest problem is just another mystery.

GOOD MANNERS
SEEN RETURNING

London Hostesses Report
Young Men Beginning to Answer Invitations Again

London, June 14.—Good manners—even elaborate manners—are coming back again. A hostess of the new London season made this remark the other day when asked whether she had noticed any change in the manners of young men. "Yes," she said, "they are answering invitations again. They also write to thank you after the party."

A sign of the times! For fifteen years since the war London society has been in the melting pot. Now it is emerging in a more stable form—and young men are learning how to behave again.

This season is to be marked by a reversion to formal entertainment. The era of the cocktail party, of the pyjama-and-bottle affair, is waning. Invitations are no longer issued on the spur of the moment. They are given out weeks ahead.

Even wisecracks are giving way to conversation. Waiters are increasingly popular. They are restful and conducive to pleasant talk.

This is how an acquaintance explained the change: "I think the cult of informality was due chiefly to laziness. People simply could not be bothered to entertain. They just wanted a good time, and entertaining other people cost too much time and trouble. Now we are sobering up, becoming more thoughtful and considerate."

"In any case, the British never were good Bohemians, and we are just reverting to type."

Sooke Lures

to an end in front of a low rambling house, set in the midst of a riotous garden of flowers.

The bluff, built originally as a palatial private residence, has been remodelled slightly by the present owner to accommodate summer travelers. Situated on the very point of a high promontory from which it gets its name—it has an unexcelled view of the Straits of Juan de Fuca, and the mighty Olympic Mountains beyond. There is a tennis court, and far below on the shore, a marvelous private beach. The rooms are airy and bright and Mrs. Osborne takes a particular delight in serving dainty refreshments.

Sooke Road, cross and re-cross in a winding network that leads the traveler to Metehosin, Albert Head, William Head, Happy Valley and finally to East Sooke. It is in East Sooke that one finds a delightful summer resort named Glenairly Farm.

Glenairly Farm may be reached either by the Metehosin road or by the crossroad that branches off from the Sooke Highway across the head of the inner harbor. It is situated on the shores of the harbor and is, not only in name, but in reality, a genuine farm. There is a large residence built in real old-fashioned style and in the huge grounds, comfortable cabins have been erected for the accommodation of guests. To describe the meals served at Glenairly would tax the powers of a weaver of words—fresh cream, milk, fresh berries, vegetables, everything that one imagines to be found on a farm, is there—and more. There are amusements, too—tennis, badminton, bathing and riding. Glenairly is justly famous for its riding facilities. The trails and bridle paths of East Sooke, once ridden, can never be forgotten. There are so many of them the rider will always find new paths of beauty to follow. Glenairly Farm is indeed an ideal spot to spend a vacation.

CHIFFERFIELD FARM

Recently a new playground has been opened up at sunny East Sooke to satisfy the needs of the touring vacationist. It is at Chifferfield Farm. Here 250 acres of marvelous farm lands, situated on the waterfront, have been thrown open to holiday seekers. It will be possible to board at the farmhouse, or if one wishes, to camp at one of the many sandy beaches or along the shore. Jersey milk, Devonshire cream, new laid eggs, lamb and milk-fed chickens are all to be found on the farm. The water is warm, the beaches are sheltered and clean. The air is tonic with its tang of salt water and the resinous perfume of the cedars. Mrs. Hart, the owner of Chifferfield, assures all those who think of holidaying that this wonderful farm that they will indeed have an ideal vacation.

Sunny Sooke is calling! If you listen, if you take your motor car and this week-end follow the lure of the Sooke roads, you will return at the end of your holiday—be it long or short—knowing that within the one that touches the pockets of their parents.

For years there has been a running fight on between school boards, municipal councils and the provincial government about the cost of schools. Whenever an education minister takes it into his head to do a little switching in his grants for teachers' salaries someone is pinched and a shout goes up. Municipal councils are continually scrapping with their school boards, or vice-versa, about how much is being spent. In the depression years this has loomed particularly large and the provincial treasury has played quite a part with the grants being revised upward and downward.

THE ENTIRE COST

Less than a week ago, the civic heads of Victoria and Vancouver told the government point blank the time had come when it should take over the entire cost of education. They submit the logically sound argument that municipal land taxation falls on comparatively few persons in comparison to the number of those who are sending children to school. As a service which benefits everybody it should be paid for out of the general provincial revenue, they claimed. Undoubtedly this will be very seriously considered, and the commission may be able to settle upon and for all the eternal bickering about the division of costs. In 1922-23 the provincial government paid out direct for 148,818 pupils enrolled $2,517,000, while the rest of an education bill of $6,009,126 was paid by municipalities.

Show at St. Mark's Promises Success

The advance sale of tickets indicates splendid support for the St. Mark's Anglican Young People's Association Dramatic Group next Friday and Saturday, when it presents the mystery-comedy, "The Perfect Little Goose."

Every effort is being put forward by those in charge and the players to make the group's stage debut a success in the field of amateur dramatics.

The characters are as follows: Lillian Highgate as Miss Sara Lovelace, Dora Rogers as Hannah, the maid; Harold George as Randall Meredith, May Clarke as Annabelle Lovelace, Rida Graham as Katie, the Meredith maid; Reg Porter as Teddy Travers, Ellen White as Marjory Meredith, Albert George as Byron Fleming and Arthur Matcham portraying Johnson, the detective from Boston.

The musical prologue and interludes will be provided by a string orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Ruby More. The play will be presented at St. Mark's Parish Hall, where a new stage is being erected for the occasion.

Prince's Rattles Placed On Show

London, June 14.—Two gold rattles which belonged to the Prince of Wales when he was a baby are on show at an exhibition of "Children Throughout the Ages" at Chester House this month.

One of the rattles, given to the Prince by Queen Victoria has a cor handle for the baby to exercise his new teeth on.

A fair-haired doll which—unlike those days—enthralls the Queen's baby days by opening and shutting its eyes, is another royal relic which will be shown to the public for the first time.

By its side will be a doll's christening robe with which the Queen used to play, and a gold cup as spoon which were a christening present to Princess Elizabeth.

Musical dolls, given by Queen Victoria to the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York when they were babies, Queen Elizabeth's christening robe, cap and mittens; a shirt worn by Charles the First when he was two and Oliver Cromwell's christening robe are other interesting exhibits.

Two violently-colored skittles, painted with a landscape and other efforts of the Prince of Wales as the Duke of York.

The oldest piece on view is a Chinese doll more than 2,500 years old, and the total value of the exhibits run into more than $5,000,000.
